INSURGENTS TAKE ANOTHER CITY IN CUBA; AMERICANS ON THE ISLE OF PINES ARE ASSISTING THE REBELS

OPERATION ON SKULL BRINGS MEMORY BACK

L. F. McCann of Joplin Regains Mind by Surgeon's Use of Knife.

INSANE FOR SIX YEARS

Blow of Brass Knucks Fractured Skull and Bone Penetrated Brain.

REMEMBERS OLD POETRY

Incidents of Boyhood Recalled, but Recent Events Are a Blank.

L. F. McCann of Joplin, Mo., who was for six years a maniac, is recovering at the Mayfield Sanitarium from an operation which is believed to have completely restored his reason.

Not only the six years, but four additional years, during which the effects of a blow on the side of the head were dethroning his reason, have dropped from his memory, but his recollection of everything that occurred before he was injured is clear.

Poems which he learned and recited as a boy and young man, in school and college, and which were forgotten during the period of his mental darkness, have come back to him, and he whiles away the hours in his room by reciting them.

The day after the operation, which was performed a month ago, McCann surprised Dr. Mayfield and Dr. Parker, as they were in his room, by reciting with clear enunciation and elocutionary effect this verse from a poem he had learned in his youth:

An old wooden schoolhouse, worn, battered and brown,
Still stands on a hill in a New Hampshire town.
Its rafters are rotten, its floor is decayed,
The chinks in the ceiling by children were made.
Its rickety desk, its tall, splint-bottom chair,
And old-fashioned stove are all out of repair.
Forlorn and forsaken and left to decay,
It stands on the hilltop, a ruin today.

Since then other poems that he learned long years ago and which were blotted from his brain for ten years, have come back to him and he has entertained the hospital attendants by reciting them as he lies on his bed.

Struck With Brass Knucks.

When McCann was struck on the side of the head with brass knucks in Asbury, Jasper County, in 1896, it was not known that his skull had been fractured and that a small piece of bone had been driven into the brain. No immediate effects except localized pain were felt and it was some time before the slight pressure began to affect the young man. His condition became gradually worse and at the end of four years he became violently insane.

For the next six years he was a source of constant care and anxiety to the members of his family. They consulted eminent physicians and surgeons. One operation was performed, but his condition was not improved.

Dr. Nicholas Senn, a famous Chicago surgeon, was to have operated on him shortly before he departed for the Russian-Japanese war, but his mother, fearing that he would not survive the knife, withdrew her consent at the last moment.

The condition of the young man became so much worse that he was brought to St. Louis. He had to be watched constantly. Several times he broke away from his brother and brother-in-law, who were guarding him, and ran through the streets. Once he almost reached the river. Twice he broke away from them at the door of the sanitarium.

Operation Was Dangerous.

Dr. Mayfield, regarding the case as an extreme one, was reluctant to operate, but finally consented on the relatives signing a paper relieving him of responsibility if death should ensue.

The relatives of McCann finally got him to the sanitarium and he was placed in a strait jacket and bound hand and foot and locked in a room with barred windows. He was so violent that even then he had to be watched closely. One day, when his brother left him for a few moments he worked his hands loose, and, with his fingers, dug the plastering from the wall near the bed and tore the laths out and had a hole in the wall almost large enough for the passage of his body when he was discovered.

The operation consisted of the removal of a piece of the skull $1\frac{3}{4}x1\frac{1}{4}$ inches and the insertion of a silver plate. Ever since it was performed McCann has been rational and tractable. The wound is almost completely healed. He lies unguarded in a room, the door of which stands ajar. In a few days he will be permitted to walk out for fresh air, and before long he will be set at work at a light occupation.

Dr. Mayfield and his sanitarium staff are sanguine that there will be no return of the man's mental malady, and their confidence is shared by his relatives. In view of the violent character of the man's affection the success of the operation is regarded as remarkable.

RAIN WILL BRING COOLER WEATHER

Lower Temperature to Follow Showers Thursday Night and Friday.

HEAT KILLS AGED MAN

One Death and Three Prostrations St. Louis Record Wednesday.

THE TEMPERATURE.

7 a. m.	75	11 a. m.	85
9 a. m.	82	Noon	86
10 a. m.	84	1 p. m.	87

The weather is subject to a muckrake expose. Charges against it have been preferred before the prosecuting authorities. The weather is accused of unjust discrimination and with giving rebates. The corporation has fostered class monopoly until its deeds warrant investigation. Wednesday night the rain corporation favored the entire West End with a delightfully cooling heavy rain lasting for nearly an hour. Other parts of the city were discriminated against. The investigation into the conduct of the corporation will likely result in graft charges.

The forecast: Showers and thunderstorms tonight and Friday. Much cooler. Southerly winds, shifting to northerly.

Rain was general throughout the country. At Kansas City the fall of 5.92 inches established a record.

Richar Cooley, 82 years old, fell dead at 8:45 a. m. Thursday as he was sitting at the breakfast table. His death was due indirectly to the heat. Cooley was a widower and lived with his son, Charles, H. Cooley of 3973 Fairfax avenue. He arose about 8:30 a. m. Thursday and went downstairs to breakfast. The family was gathered around the table, ready to be seated, when Cooley fell over. The family thought it was a fainting spell and carried him to his bed. When a physician arrived Cooley was dead.

The Weather Bureau recorded a temperature of 90 degrees Wednesday, but clouds obscured the sun much of the afternoon and reduced the suffering.

One death and three prostrations from the heat in St. Louis were reported. Fred Smith, a porter in a bakery at 2301 Plover avenue, was overcome while walking along the street in front of 2375 Wren avenue. He died before an ambulance arrived.

Charles Sax, 14 years old, of 5144 Page boulevard, was prostrated at a mercantile house at Thirteenth street and Washington avenue, where he was employed. He was treated at the City Dispensary and was sent home. Henry Meier was overcome while unloading gravel from a car at the foot of Gasconade street and was taken to the City Hospital. Fred Bieber of Ninth and Olive streets was overcome while at work in the bottling department of the Anheuser-Busch Brewery and was taken to the City Hospital.

KANSAS CITY ICE MAGNATES ARE ARRESTED

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 23.—Criminal action was begun today against two of the men connected with the local Ice Trust. Prosecutor Kimbrell filed informations against W. F. Lyons, president of the Central Ice Co., charging perjury and conspiracy, and against Harry L. Burke, secretary of the People's Ice and Fuel Co., charging conspiracy to defraud the public.

Warrants were placed in the hands of the County Marshal and the defendants were arrested and taken before Judge Wofford and arraigned. Their trials were set for Oct. 15. Judge Wofford fixed the bond of Lyons at $1500 and Burke's at $500, which bonds was promptly furnished and the men released.

There are two informations. One includes Burke and Lyons and charges that some time last March they entered into an agreement whereby the supply of ice was to be restricted and the retail prices raised at stated intervals. The other information alleges Lyons perjured himself on the witness stand.

The charges as set forth in the informations were obtained from the ouster suit hearing now pending before W. S. Flournoy, Special Commissioner. The criminal action, however, [illegible] not affect the suit to oust the [illegible] from doing business in the city.

MIXED NOTES AND ACCEPTED WRONG SUITOR

Miss Amy Bay Had Two Suitors Who Proposed to Her at the Same Time.

TOOK TIME TO DETERMINE

She Finally Decided to Write to Kentuckian Accepting His Offer.

STURGEON GOT LETTER

This Mistake Was Followed by Marriage With Divorce Suit as Sequel.

Deputy Sheriffs Thursday reported their failure to obtain personal service upon Mrs. Amy Sturgeon, who, as exclusively told in late editions of Wednesday's Post-Dispatch, has been sued for divorce by Robert T. Sturgeon. Mrs. Sturgeon is one of the best known young matrons in St. Louis society and was particular prominent in smart functions during the World's Fair.

Joseph L. Bay, Mrs. Sturgeon's father, called at the Sheriff's office Thursday and told Chief Deputy Becker that she was not in St. Louis, and that he did not know when she would return. He made the same statement to Deputy Burns Wednesday night when Burns called at the Bay home, 5904A Clemens avenue, to serve the papers.

The recent Supreme Court decision adverse to divorces granted in cases where the defendant, being in another State, is served by publication, does not affect this case. St. Louis is the matrimonial domicile of Mrs. Sturgeon, and under the court's ruling publication here would be sufficient notification to her of the suit.

Mrs. Sturgeon's family declined to discuss the divorce proceedings or to say anything for publication. A friend of Mrs. tSurgeon's, however, talked freely of the luckless termination of her marriage.

Had Two Ardent Suitors.

'When Mrs. Sturgeon, then the beautiful Miss Amy Bay, first came to St. Louis from Virginia, her native State," said this friend, "she at once became popular with the young man of local society and had many admirers. Among the number were Robert T. Sturgeon and a young Louisville beau, and these two were soon running a hot race, in the lead of others, as rivals for her hand.

"The young lady herself seemed to decide between the two. She liked them both, but each demanded more than mere liking. Did she love either, and, if so, which? This was the problem confronting her, and it was a problem calling for prompt settlement, because both Mr. Sturgeon and the handsome young Kentuckian were wooing her hotly. Finally formal declarations came from both, and it was necessary for Amy Bay to make her choice. Young Sturgeon and the Louisville man were awaiting her reply, each aware that he had a dangerous rival in the other.

"The beautiful Miss Bay is not the only girl who has been in doubt in choosing between two suitors, but she seems to have cherished an astonishingly even-balanced regard for the two men who had proposed to her. She hesitated as long as she could in making a choice between them, pondering over the all-important matter in the pretty family home at 5904A Clemens avenue. At last she decided in favor of the young Kentuckian. She decided to write to him, telling him that she would be his wife.

"And so she did, her letter of acceptance of his suit being written without superscription, telling him the glad news in a simple and straight forward manner. Following that action, and with the letter to the Louisville suitor still open before her, Miss Ray, as a matter of course, wrote a kindly letter to young Mr. Sturgeon, saying how sorry she felt that she could not return his love and thanking him, nevertheless, for the high compliment paid her in asking her to marry him. It was a sincere, friendly letter—and it, too, did not carry on its pages the name of the man for whom it was inteneded.

"Having written these two letters of such differing import, Miss Bay proceeded to place them in the envelopes which she directed to the respective addresses of her two suitors. And then it was that a mischievous Fate intervened.

Letter in Wrong Envelope.

"She placed the letter to Mr. Sturgeon in the envelope and addressed to the young Kentuckian, thus, ignorantly, declining the suit of the man whom she had in reality decided to accept. The letter for the Kentuckian was placed in the envelope addressed to Mr. Sturgeon. It notified him that his suit was accepted, Miss Bay consenting to marry him.

"Whereupon young Mr. Sturgeon hurried to Miss Bay's home, an accepted suitor. The young lady, amazed, listening to his first words following their meeting, realized what she had done. He had received the letter to her favored Kentucky suitor and believed that he had been victorious over the Kentuckian.

"Here, again, came proof of the strangely equal regard felt by Miss Bay for her two admirers. She hadn't the heart to tell Mr. Sturgeon of her mistake. She was thinking of herself, even as he spoke, that maybe, after all, Fate had intervened for her good, and that she did care more for the St. Louisan than for the other.

"This thought gained waight as she listened to young Sturgeon's speech in the character of an accepted suitor for her hand, and, when he had finished speaking, her determination was reached. A mistake had been made. She would abide by it. And so, with this decision the girl in the case permitted the mistake of a careless hand to control her destiny. Young Mr. Sturgeon was allowed to believe that he was the one whom she loved, and the marriage of the two followed.

"Miss Bay later told one or two of her confidantes about the curious blunder and its still more curious termination. When, during the World's Fair, jealousy led to comment upon the fact that she was seen at so many of the World's Fair functions without her husband, this story of how she had come to choose him became more or less current. It was told as explaining why the wife was more or less indifferent as to her husband's accompanying her in society.

No Contest Expected.

"I is now said that there will be no contest of Mr. Sturgeon's suit for divorce. It is further said that another marriage is likely soon to follow the granting of the decree which shall sever bonds now uniting Mrs. Sturgeon to the man whose suit she in reality rejected at the very time that she accepted the suit of another.

"She was greatly admired because of her flaxen hair, her pink and white skin and her vivacity. She dressed in good taste, but many of her gowns which attracted attention were made by herself.

"Gossips sometimes said that she had special admirers, but she spoke of this without concern, saying: 'My husband likes to have me go in society. Since he cannot always be with me, he is satisfied if my friends are those whom he approves, and if I have proper chaperonage. Gossips may say what they like. He is the person to whose opinions I give consideration.'

"Miss Rosemary Sartoris, granddaughter of President Grant, is one of Mrs. Sturgeon's special friends, as is Mrs. Azby Chouteau. They were together often during the Fair."

Mr. Sturgeon is assistant cashier of the Merchants-Laclede National Bank and a member of one of St. Louis' oldest and most prominent families.

Mr. and Mrs. Sturgeon were married in February, 1900, and made their home at 4200 Maryland avenue. The marriage seemed a happy one, but difficulties arose, and the couple were seen less frequently together in public. For several weeks before the petition was filed it was generally known by their acquaintances that they had separated and that Mrs. Sturgeon was living with her parents. A few days before the petition was filed she departed for a Tennessee summer resort. Her parents refuse to speak of the petition filed by her husband.

Mr. Stugeon also declines to speak of the petition, and says he will have nothing to say about the case until it goes to trial.

The petition states that Mrs. Sturgeon continually offered indignities which rendered the husband's condition intolerable, and gives the date of separation as June 29.

Became Ill on Honeymoon.

Mr. Sturgeon was attacked with an ailment simiiar to locomotor ataxia within a few months after his marriage. The illness which led to this condition commenced during the wedding tour in Europe.

Europe. A friend of the family said to a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday:

WOMEN IN A FIGHT.

Warrant Issued for Wife of O'Fallon Hotel Keeper.

Mrs. Marguerite Beckmann of O'Fallon swore out a warrant in Belleville for the arrest of Mrs. Dora Pashea, wife of a hotel keeper in O'Fallon, charging her with assault and battery.

Mrs. Beckmann alleges that Mrs. Pashea met her on the main street of O'Fallon and administered a whipping with a rawhide whip. She says that the cause for the assault was the collection of money which Mrs. Pashea was alleged to have owed Mrs. Beckmann, who formerly was employed as a domestic by Mrs. Pashea. The case will be tried in Magistrate Evans' court.

CITY ASSEMBLY MAY INVITE KAISER AT SPECIAL SESSION

Council Must Meet by Sept. 1 to Take Action on Bonds of Lighting Company and House of Delegates Will Have to Convene at the Same Time According to City Charter.

An official invitation to the Emperor of Germany to visit St. Louis should he come to the United States, as suggested by the Post-Dispatch may be considered at a special session of the Municipal Assembly, which will be called in a few days to approve the bonds of the Union Light and Power Co. and the Laclede Lighting Co. for lighting the public buildings in St. Louis.

It is necessary that these bonds be approved before the present contract expires, Sept. 1. The assembly adjourned until Sept. 7, which would be too late to get continuous service from the lighting companies.

The contract and bond of the companies is now in the hands of the City Counselor, who will attest that the documents are in proper legal form. As soon as this is done they will be ready for the Council.

Only the Council is required to approve a contract and bond. The House of Delegates has no hand whatever in the approval. The provision of the charter pertaining to special sessions provides, however, that both branches must be called when one is called.

Acting Mayor Forman may, in his message stating the objects of the special session, make business for the House of Delegates by mentioning the demand expressed by many organizations in St. Louis that an invitation to come to St. Louis be extended to the Emperor of Germany by the Municipal Assembly.

In former special sessions which had for their object the approval of bonds and contracts the House of Delegates has been convened, but has done nothing but remain in session until notified by the Council that the objects for which the session had been called had been accomplished.

"I see no reason why the invitation to the Emperor should not be taken up at the special session," says Acting Mayor Forman. "There seems to be a demand for the invitation. I have not yet made up my mind as to the details of the session, inasmuch as the date for it has not yet been fixed."

NEBRASKANS TO SEE BRYAN FIRST

Delegation Charters Yacht to Go Down Bay and Meet Steamer.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 23.—A special train, carrying the delegation of over 100 Nebraskans, who will meet William J. Bryan on his arrival in New York, will leave this city Friday evening, running to Chicago over the Chicago & Great Western, thence to New York over the Grand Trunk and Lehigh Valley roads. The train will be run solid, without change, the entire trip.

A telegram from New York to the local committee, announces that a yacht has been chartered to go down the bay to meet Mr. Bryan's steamer, enabling the Nebraska delegation to be first in welcoming Mr. Bryan.

BIDS ARE OPENED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Bids were opened at the Bureau of Insular Affairs, War Department, today for $1,000,000 of Philippine certificates. Numerous bids were submitted, but it is expected that the whole amount will be awarded to Fisk & Robinson of New York, whose the amount. One of the bids was as bid was $1.02 28-100 for all or none of high as $1.03 for $100,000 worth.

SHAW INCREASES PUBLIC DEPOSITS

Ruling Affects 150 Banks and Releases $150,000,000 From Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Secretary Shaw has taken steps to increase the deposits of public moneys in national depositories in various parts of the country to $50,000, the amount authorized by law.

If affects about 150 banks and will aggregate about $3,000,000 additional deposits.

Secretary Shaw said today in explanation of his action that he had not designated any national bank depositaries since immediately following the Panama bond sale. There was, however, quite a large surplus in the treasury and he had decided to increase the deposits in a large number of banks.

LIGHTNING INJURES FIVE.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MAMMOTH SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 23.—Lightning struck the Postoffice at Camp, Ark., 15 miles from here, last night, fatally injuring Forrest Mann, a farmer, and severely injuring Hon. Stephen Brown of Salem, Dr. C. T. Randall and three others. Brown may lose his hearing as a result of the stroke.

GUERRA NOW HOLDS 2 TOWNS AND HAS THIRD SURROUNDED

Rebel Forces Occupy San Jaun de Martinez Twenty-Four Hours After San Luis Falls, and Their Leader Himself Notifies Havana of His Victory.

SECRETARY OF STATE QUITS PALMA CABINET

Two More Towns Proclaim Open Rebellion and Government Hurries Troops From the Capital—Bandera, Organizer of General Revolt, Killed in Battle.

BUSINESS INTERESTS DEMAND ANNEXATION BY UNITED STATES

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 23.—A cablegram from Havana to a New Orleans newspaper says:

The Palma administration has underestimated the insurgents' strength. It is known that several cargoes of arms and ammunition have been landed in Cuba from the Florida coast during the past two months and the insurgents are abundantly supplied with war material.

It is believed by many Havana business men that it will be necessary for the United States to intervene and annex the island before the revolution will be crushed. Annexation is openly favored by the commercial interests in all of the large cities and towns in Cuba. The revolutionary leaders even prefer annexation to the United States to a continuation of present conditions.

HAVANA, Aug. 23.—The insurgent forces commanded by Pino Guerra, who took the city of San Luis yesterday after three hours' fighting, today captured San Juan de Martinez, the terminus of the Western Railroad, five miles west of San Luis.

General Manager Livesey of the Western Railroad this afternoon received a message from Pino Guerra, forwarded from San Juan de Hartinez, saying:

"I as in possession of your station. If [illegible] troops are sent over the Western Railroad I will blow up [illegible] and destroy your property."

Mr. Livesey did not answer the dispatch but immediately forwarded it to the palace. The officials at that time had no news other than the announcement contained in Guerra's message.

Guerra's forces are now in complete control of two cities and have Pinar Del Rio surrounded. The latter city may fall into the insurgents' hands before night.

News reached here today that the American residents in the Isle of Pines are in sympathy with the insurgents and are lending them all the aid possible. It is feared here that Guerra will make the Isle of Pines a base of operations.

TROOPS GO TO BATTLE INSURGENTS.

A force of rural guards and volunteers has left Cienfuegos, Province of Santa Clara, to engage 300 insurgents who have left Las Lajas under the command of Col. Guzman, mayor of that town.

A trainload of troops was sent from Havana westward this afternoon toward the City of Pinar del Rio, from which base they will assist in operating against the insurgents who are occupying San Luis and San Juan de Martinez.

Secretary of State and Justice O'Farrill, Acting Minister of the Interior, definitely resigned from the cabinet today. Gen. Freyre Andrade, Speaker of the House and formerly Secretary of the Interior, is slated for the Interior portfolio temporarily. Gen. Andrade is one of the most vigorous supporters of the Government.

The body of the negro Gen. Quenten Bandera, the most daring insurgent in Havana Province, who was killed in a battle this morning, lies in the Morgue at Havana today flanked by those of two mulatto comrades, all frightfully gashed by the long, heavy machetes of the rural guards, who ended their career. Across the street, in Neptune Park, a great crowd, mostly negro friends of Bandera, are watching the Morgue with silent interest.

It is believed the insurrectionary movement in Western Havana has been broken up by Bandera's death.

The arrival of Bandera's body here was the first news of the fight in which he met his death. The conflict occurred at the Silveira farm, near Punta Brava, 15 miles from Havana.

A detachment of 38 mounted rural guards, under Capt. Ignacio del Gado and Lieut. Martinez, searched throughout the night for Bandera's party.

At 9 o'clock this morning the guards were breaking through a wire force at the edge of the Silveira farm when they were suddenly fired upon by Bandera's followers, 20 in number. The guards rushed upon the insurgents, but with the exception of their chief and his two leading comrades, they all escaped.

The guards made the chief and his two companions a special object of attack and all three received several bullet wounds and were horribly mutilated by machete cuts. Not one of the guards was wounded.

The bodies of Bandera and his companions were placed in a wagon and taken to Havana. An examination of Bandera's body showed that his principal wound was a severe machete blow on the head, which cut off his left ear and made an ugly incision in his face. He also had bullet wounds in his arms and breast.

The condition of Bandera's two dead companions was even more shocking. Their faces and heads were terribly gashed, and they also had machete wounds in their breasts and on their arms. The clothes of all three men showed every evidence of the hard life which they had been leading while eluding their pursuers.

It has been an open secret among the rural guards that Bandera would never live to be tried for treason, his death being the main object of the Government forces operating in Havana Province.

The smallness of the party accompanying Bandera has caused surprise here, but it is believed that he had only a portion of his band with him.

When in Havana Bandera was in the habit of gathering crowds of negroes about him and making speeches to them on the ingratitude of republics. On one occasion he went to the Senate chamber and delivered a violent speech criticising the Government for not giving him an office. Soon afterward he was appointed doorkeeper of the House of Parliament.

The position to which Bandera aspired was that of Chief of Police.

LAWYERS FOR GALBRAITH ASK ONLY JUSTICE

They Plead Truth of Alibi and Attack Negro Convict Witness.

NEGRO AGAINST WHITE

Issue Is Clearly Defined by Attorneys in Their Addresses to Jury.

JUDGE FEARS OUTBREAK

Deputy Sheriffs Told to Arrest Anyone Who Makes Demonstration.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 23.—With the arguments in the case of Doss Galbraith, charged with murder in the second degree, the issue of the lynching case was laid bare in the Greene County Courthouse today.

The black men against the white—that was the keynote of all the arguments. With the prosecution demanding that the jury remember that the negro has as much right to the protection of the law as the white man, and comparing the mob that hanged and burned three negroes here on the night of April 14 to the mobs that burned Christians in ancient Rome, the issue was defined, and the attorneys for Doss Galbraith were invited to pick up the gauntlet.

They did so by demanding of the jury that the evidence of a negro convict against a white man should be ignored. They did it by attacking the servant of the State of Missouri, who, they said, was responsible for bringing the negro witnesses here.

And while they were doing it, deputy sheriffs, armed with huge revolvers, were patroling the courtroom and the square outside and mingling with the spectators in anticipation of having to prevent a demonstration which the Judge in charge of the case had publicly recognized as probable.

To Prevent Demonstration.

Before the instructions and Prosecutor Page's opening for the State, Judge Lincoln called forward the Sheriff and his deputies and told them that, as it was likely some demonstration might be made, he wanted deputies scattered through the audience. He ordered that at the first sign of any approval or disapproval of what might be said in the course of argument, the person who interrupted the proceedings, no matter who it might be, should be brought before him.

"And any disturbance means Jail," he added.

Judge Lincoln confined his instructions to the jury to a straight statement of law, as applied to the evidence in the case against Galbraith. He defined the various degrees of murder and paid particular attention to the law making any one in a conspiracy equally guilty with the others, even though he did not perform the specific act.

Many Women in Court.

While the instructions were being read to the jury, the courtroom became so crowded that it became necessary to close the doors again and refuse admittance to any more spectators. There were more women present than at any other time during the trial. This was predicted last night, when a request came to see that seats be provided for the women who wished to hear the arguments.

They had to take their chances along with the other spectators, but they got to the Courthouse early and most of them had good seats.

"I want you to understand that this is not an attack on Doss Galbraith personally," declared Mr. Page at the very beginning of his argument. "I have nothing against him."

Mr. Page reviewed the events leading up to the lynching, and in the course of it made a plea for the negro.

"God Almighty painted these men's faces black," he said; "they could not help it. I have no doubt that they both wished they were white. But they were black and were entitled to the protection of the law."

Negroes Were Defenseless.

The prosecutor then pictured Coker and Duncan in Jail, defenseless and in a steel cage.

"Then came a mob to the Greene County Jail," continued Mr. Page. "Do you know what a mob it? It is a band of lawless men. These lawless men broke into the Jail and took the lives of these negroes.

"It is a question of whether this country is to be ruled by law or by mobs. Raise the red flag of anarchy, and you will find the life of man or woman or child will not be safe.

"The word mob has always meant intolerance and bigotry. It was mobs that burned Christians hundreds of years ago just because they were Christians. If mob law is to prevail here, you will find that Springfield, Greene County, Missouri, will be a very poor place in which to live."

There was nothing volcanic about Mr. Page's argument. He went over the evidence which the State has presented and demanded that Galbraith be found guilty because the State had shown that he had aided and abetted the mob.

Galbraith's Attitude.

"Probably not more than a dozen men actually had a hand in the hanging of these negroes," said Page, "but there were at least 50 or 60 men on that square who were equally guilty, and if Doss Galbraith was one of these 50 or 60 he is guilty.

"And what were his own actions, according to his own testimony? Takes his little 13-year-old boy by the hand and leads him to see the killing of these men. And then for fear that the boy might be in doubt as to where he stood on this lynching, this father tells a man in the presence of his son that if he said the men who were hanging the negroes were no better than the negroes, he would smash him in the mouth. That was his attitude, told for the benefit of his own 13-year-old boy."

After completing his review of the testimony, Page, in closing, insisted that the jury had not only to decide whether Doss Galbraith was guilty of murder, but whether Greene County, Mo., should be ruled by mobs.

Judge Lincoln is preparing to meet any such outbreak as has been promised, and has warned the various deputy sheriffs who are on duty in the courtroom to quell any disturbance by lifting from their seat and bringing before him, under arrest, the first person who applauds any statement by counsel.

Negroes Fear Trouble.

The meeting of the negroes last night was the result of the expression of popular feeling that has been the rule ever since the lynching and has culminated in the talk of a public demonstration if Galbraith is acquitted.

The negroes declare that his acquittal would mean their persecution, and, on the other hand, they are equally afraid of his conviction, maintaining that, in the latter event, they will be made the victims of a desire to revenge him.

Ever since it became known that the negroes were arming themselves, they have been watched closely, and the fact of their holding a meeting was known early in the evening. The meeting was held in a hall over a printing office, near the square, a hall used by the negro lodges. It lasted until about 11 o'clock, and even then the men who attended it did not all leave at once, but dropped away in twos and threes to keep from making it appear that a crowd of negroes were on the streets late at night.

It was impossible to get any information regarding the meeting except that a plan for all the blacks to leave Springfield was discussed, and that, while the negroes "would not start any trouble, they are ready to protect themselves from attack."

Attacks Negro Witnesses.

Val Mason opened the argument for the defense. "Before we go into the evidence in this case," he said, "I want to ask you to try it without regard to the prejudice that is in the public mind. We want the guilt or innocence of this defendant decided on the law and evidence regardless of what anybody may want you to do, whether he be black or white, man or woman.

"I ask this because I believe that the people of America, the people of the whole civilized world, think that all the men who have been indicted in connection with this case are guilty. I do not fear to tell you this, for I believe it will only make you more careful to protect the interests of this defendant."

Mason went over the tetimony of the State's witnesses in detail, showing all the points which he considered weakened the evidence of the prosecution. He paid his respects to the prosecution for using negro convicts as witnesses, and attacked Assistant Attorney-General Gentry.

"I want to tell you," said Mason, "that I don't blame the county prosecutor for the introduction of these criminals. If Roscoe Patterson had had his way, no negroes would have been brought here from the Penitentiary to try to swear away the liberty of a white man.

"But there were others whom the laws of this land put over the county prosecutor, who overruled the judgment of a man whom I know and respect, and so criminals were brought here to attack Doss Galbraith.

"I say it was insult to every man on this jury and to every self-respecting citizen of Greene County.

"The defense in this case is an alibi," Mr. Mason concluded. "Alibi and unparticipation. I know there is a prejudice against that word alibi, but in this case the alibi is a fact, and the only evidence against that of the respectable people who established that alibi is the testimony of those two negro convicts from Jefferson City."

Attorney M. C. Smith also spoke briefly for the defense. He also paid particular attention to the testimony of the negroes from the penitentiary and asked the jurors to determine in their own minds why the State did not call the jailer to back up their testimony.

"Master of Ceremonies."

Kennish declared that Galbraith was the actual master of ceremonies while the lynching was going on. When a band of burglars robs a bank, he said, one of the most important men in the gang is he who stays outside on watch to shoot deadli if necessary, any one who interferes. That was Galbraith's position in this lynching, he said. Kennish also paid particular attention to Galbraith's running away from the Jail.

"I tell you that when he ran away from that Jail he was going on an errand for that mob," declared the Assistant Attorney-General. "He was not going to his house or to his shop. He was on an errand for the mob, I tell you."

It was during Kennish's argument that Galbraith first showed interest in the proceedings. Seated between his wife and his youngest boy, with Virgil in a chair in front of him, the man accused of murder had sat all day listening patiently first to an attack on and then to a defense of his actions. But from the moment that Kennish called him the actual master of ceremonies, Galbraith sat up straight in his chair and paid attention to every word.

Kennish Sticks to Testimony.

Assistant Attorney-General Kennish, when it came time for him to speak at the beginning of the afternoon session, at once took up the question of the negro convict witnesses. He kept away entirely from the question of race prejudice, and defended the bringing of the men on the ground of law and what the State lawyers had to do to perform their duty and present their case.

"This is not a question of public opinion. It is a question of your oath to Almighty God, but when Mr. Mason told you that he did not want you to consider public opinion he did not mean a word he said."

Mr. Kennish, like Mr. Page, went deeply into the question of establishing the guilt of Galbraith. He read portions of the Court's instructions to the jury and maintained that Doss Galbraith was a party to a conspiracy which resulted in the death of Horace Duncan, the particular negro named in the Galbraith indictment. This he declared made him guilty of murder under the law.

"I am not going to talk about the white man and the black man," said Mr. Kennish, "for we have only one law. It is the same for the rich and for the poor, the same for all races.

"I am not standing here in the defense of the negro, neither am I calling him names. I am simply telling you that he is entitled to protection under the law, and the man who robs him of that protection should be punished."

HARRY HAWES IS TOO FAT, HE WEIGHED 231, SO TAKES EXERCISES

Ex-Politician Reduced Seven Pounds and Would Lose Fifteen More.

Harry B. Hawes is banting. He has been at it two weeks now and declares he is seven pounds lighter. He makes this declaration proudly. Those seven pounds have cost Mr. Hawes much toilful play.

You have heard that interesting mathematical problem of the frog which crawled two feet toward the top of the well each day and slipped back one foot. Mr. Hawes can give you the answer offhand—substituting pounds for feet. Mr. Hawes finds reducing flesh as hard as getting out of politics.

Not that Mr. Hawes appears corpulent to the casual glance. He is a comfortable figure of a man, but the passerby wouldn't describe him as being worse than stout. Mr. Hawes, however, thinks differently.

HIS EVENING WORK.

HIS MORNING WORK.

"I'm just too fat; that's all," he said Thursday to a Post-Dispatch reporter who asked him what progress he was making. "I found out quite by accident not long ago that I weighed 231 pounds. Two hundred and thirty-one pounds! It's come on since I got out of politics, you know.

Would Lose 15 Pounds More.

"That's too much for me to weigh. I began to take off flesh. In the morning I take a swim at the M. A. C. I'm not an expert swimmer at all, but I can get around the pool there three or four times without much trouble. Fine exercise. Then after lunch I go out to the Normandie and golf or play tennis. I bought me an automobile so I could get around easily from one place to another, and I'm getting along fine.

"I intend to take off 15 pounds more before I quit."

Mr. Hawes said this with an air of determination.

"At the present rate that would only require a month," was suggested.

"Well, I guess it will take a little longer than that," said Mr. Hawes sadly.

"After the start it's more difficult, you know. But I'm going to stick to it. I feel a hundred per cent better. It doesn't make so much difference whether your weight is reduced if you get harder. I'm coming to be solid as a rock. But I'm going to do it—20 or 210 pounds—I'll make it before I quit."

The record of Mr. Hawes' efforts at banting is not altogether a record of success. There are sad entries showing how two pounds taken off by a hard day's work became three pounds added by an indulgence in prohibited "farinaceous, saccharine and oily foods," with a glass of Burgundy to aid digestion. Rhine wine and seltzer is the only liquid allowed by the doctor. Mr. Hawes has paid for these indulgences in bitter repentance and increased toil the next day.

Mr. Hawes' dinner, as planned in keeping with his athletic schedule, would astonish the political friends he professes to have eschewed. Unfortunately he is occasionally tempted to violate this abstemious menu. It is then that he slips back one foot of the two he has climbed during the day—and sometimes more. But Mr. Hawes is not daunted—he continues at his task with undiminished ardor.

Trainman Hit by Engine.

Charles Rutter of Grafton, a conductor of the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis Railroad, is at his home with serious injuries received when an engine drawing a string of freight cars jumped the track at the Chautauqua switch and crashed into a box car standing on the siding. Rutter was riding on the cowcatcher. When the engine left the rails he jumped and ran along parallel to the track. A part of the engine struck him and knocked him down the embankment. His collar bone was broken. He was taken home on a launch.

Ed Spreen, the engineer, jumped through the cab window and was slightly hurt. E. W. Bone, the fireman, also jumped, but was not hurt.

The track was blocked and passengers were carried from Chautauqua to Grafton on launches.

RUNAWAY TEAM DRAGS WOMAN

Mrs. Susan Hollingsworth Thrown From Surrey Turning Corner.

CAUGHT IN THE SPRINGS

Policeman Thomas Hughes Stops the Horses at Personal Risk.

Mrs. Susan Hollingsworth of 3430 Lucas avenue, wife of Charles Hollingsworth, proprietor of the Princeton Hotel at Sixth and Market streets, was severely injured in a runaway accident at Twenty-first and Pine streets at 11 a. m., Thursday. She was thrown from a surrey and dragged nearly a block. Policeman Thomas Hughes, who was standing at Chestnut and Twenty-first streets, saw the runaway, ran into the street, leaped for the reins of the horses and pulled them to a standstill after he was dragged 50 feet.

The injured woman was extricated from entanglement in the springs of the vehicle by Policeman Hughes, placed in the surrey she had been riding in and a record run made to the City Dispensary, where she was given temporary treatment and then sent to the City Hospital. Her condition is said to be precarious.

Mrs. Hollingsworth had just purchased a new surrey and a handsome pair of horses and was taking her first drive. In the vehicle with her was Paul Beck, an inexperienced coachman, whom she had employed. Mrs. Hollingsworth was driving east on Pine street and when Twenty-first street was reached she turned south and in so doing drove too near the curb, causing the surrey to swerve and throw her to the pavement.

Her feet become entangled in the springs on the front axle and she was dragged nearly to Chestnut street, her head bumping upon the pavement at every leap of the frightened horses. Beck, the coachman, lost self-control at seeing the danger the woman was in and failed to gather up the reins and attempt to check the team.

When Mrs. Hollingsworth was taken from the wheels and springs of the vehicle she was bleeding and bruised in many places and it is feared that the bruises on her head will cause concussion of the brain. Mr. Hollingsworth was hastily summoned and is at the bedside of his wife at the City Hospital.

POLICE FIRE ON J. O. ARMOUR'S WIFE IN AUTO

Mrs. Armour, Daughter and Two Women Friends Escape Five Bullets.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 23.—Residents of Lake Forest, Evanston and other North Shore towns today demanded an investigation of the action of the Rogers Park policeman who fired five shots at an automobile containing Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, her daughter Lolita and two women guests.

C. H. Huck, the chauffeur, said he drove Mrs. Armour, Lolita, Miss Biller and another woman from Chicago to Lake Forest. At Rogers Park, he said, he was stopped by a policeman who threatened to arrest him and then fired five shots at the automobile, greatly frightening the women he carried.

The policeman, according to Huck, said his name was "Mike" Donovan. He made no arrests.

Later the automobile was stopped in Evanston by Policeman Kane. It was taken to the court of Justice Boyer, where Huck was fined $20 for speeding.

The police say Patrolman Saxon tried to stop the automobile in Rogers Park, but the chauffeur refused to stop and Saxon fired three shots.

Saxon says that after the car was halted he was hit on the head with a parasol by one of the women. The chauffeur, he says, immediately clapped on full power and the machine dashed away.

Spice Store Clerk Drinks Half a Tumbler of Extract.

George Gaffner, 21 years old, of 3006 North Prairie avenue, was taken to the City Hospital Thursday morning with alcoholic poisoning. He drank half a tumbler of vanilla extract and fell unconscious.

He said he is a clerk in a spice store and that he became thirsty. Not having ice water, he drank the extract. He says he was told by another employe it was good to drink.

CARPENTERS WIN IN LABOR FIGHT

President Gompers Directs Central Body to Admit Their Delegates.

MUST COMPLY BY SUNDAY

Executive Council of A. F. of L. Orders Writing of Letter.

An official letter from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, received in St. Louis Thursday, brings to a close the hard and bitter fight that has been waged to keep the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners out of the Central Trades and Labor Union of St. Louis.

The letter is causing considerable excitement among those concerned who know of its receipt, and the excitement is expected to culminate at next Sunday's meeting of the Trades and Labor Union, as that date is the limit set for compliance with the instructions contained in the letter. These instructions mean victory for the carpenters in their efforts to obtain representation in the local central labor organization.

The Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor, acting upon a communication received from the Trades and Labor Union of St. Louis under date of July 2, directs President Gompers to advise the St. Louis body to comply with the constitution of the American Federation of Labor bearing upon the point at issue. This relevant provision in the constitution reads:

"No central body affiliated with the American Federation of Labor shall reject credentials presented by a duly elected or appointed delegation of a local union, chartered by a national or international union having affiliation with the American Federation of Labor; provided, however, that upon written charges signed by at least three delegates, any delegate of an affiliated union may, upon conviction after a fair trial, be expelled or suspended. Action of the Central Body under this section shall be subject to appeal to the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor, and no delegation representing local unions affiliated, as herein described, shall be suspended or expelled until like action is taken."

Must Comply Within Two Weeks.

Acting in accordance with this provision of the constitution, President Gompers instructs the Trades and Labor Union of St. Louis to accord the full rights to and seat the delegates from the local unions of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, and of the local branch of the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners, and directs compliance therewith within two weeks from the receipt of the letter, which was forwarded under registered mail.

This action of the Executive Committee of the American Federation of Labor, voiced through President Gompers, must of necessity terminate the fight on the carpenters, as compliance with its instructions is virtually imperative. The movement to prevent the carpenters from having representation in the Trades and Labor Union was led by the Woodworkers' Union, a dispute as to jurisdiction has been under way between the carpenters and woodworkers for some time and has been thoroughly aired in the meetings of the local central body.

It is also asserted that the Socialists have been active allies of the woodworkers' union in fighting the carpenters, the reason given for this being that the Socialists, in the event of the carpenters being accorded representation in the Trades and Labor Union, fear that they will lose their present control of the central organization.

It is expected that there will be a large attendance at the meeting of the Central Trades and Labor Union next Sunday, as the carpenters' delegates must be seated on that date. President Gompers' letter closes with an expression of the hope that, in the interest of the great cause of labor in St. Louis and throughout the country, the Central Trades and Labor Union of St. Louis will promptly and cordially comply with the decision rendered by the Executive Committee of the American Federation of Labor.

SOCIETY LEADER STABBED BY BLACKS

Negroes Attack Whites Who Reprimanded Them for Unseemly Conduct.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Aug. 23.—Russell Ford, a prominent young society man, was stabbed so badly by negroes whom he had reprimanded for unseemly conduct, that he may die.

Posses of angry white men are searching for the negroes and excitement is so high that a lynching is expected if the blacks are captured.

Pearl Reardan and Ford, both of prominent families, were members of a party bound for a dance at Coal Grove on the Ohio side and were on an interstate car when they had cause to reprimand some negroes for their actions.

No trouble was expected from the negroes until the party had left the car and were waiting for the return of the ferryboat from the other side, when several blacks came up from behind and attacked the whites with knives.

The young men fought vigorously in the effort to keep the negroes from the remainder of the crowd and Ford was stabbed several times in the breast. He is one of the wealthiest and most popular young men in this section.

CANNON TO RUN IF HE IS NOMINATED

Not Active Candidate for President, but Would Not Decline Honor.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Speaker Cannon arrived at the summer home of Congressman J. C. Sibley of Pennsylvania from New York yesterday.

He knew nothing of the resolutions adopted by the Illinois State Convention, indorsing him for the Presidency, until he saw the papers and said he was very grateful to the people of his State for their action, but was in no sense an active candidate for the nomination.

When asked if he would accept it if it was tendered him he said no man could decline so high an honor at the hands of his party. He will remain at Congressman Sibley's residence until Sept. 1, when he will leave for Maine, where he is to speak in Congressman Littlefield's behalf.

WOMAN BREAKS BROOM ON THIEF

Mrs. Catherine Schipp Attacks Intruder as He Leaps Rear Fence.

STICK IN THREE PIECES

Burglar Is Caught Trying to Enter House as Woman Returns.

A burglar who attempted to enter the home of Thomas Shipp, 6416 Idaho avenue, through a rear window late Wednesday while the family was absent, was surprised just as he was ready to enter by the return of Mr. Schipp's wife, Mrs. Catherine Schipp. He started to leave the premises by running through the back yard and was still more surprised when Mrs. Schipp threw down the ironing board she was carrying and pursued him with a broomstick.

The intruder finally escaped by jumping over the back fence, but not until the broomstick had been broken in three pieces by well-directed blows on the thief's head and shoulders.

Mrs. Schipp showed a Post-Dispatch reporter all that was left of the broomstick with which she routed the prowler.

"I think he is the same man who was here Saturday night," she said, "and I had a ballbat setting where I could get hold of it if he came again. In my haste to procure a weapon I got hold of the broomstick and I did not have time to exchange it. But I think he will remember the broomstick.

"I went to the house of a neighbor Wednesday evening, and spent the evening there ironing. My two sons, Ervin, 9 years old, and Richard, 19, went with me and we left no one at the house except a man who rooms there. He always goes to bed early and sleeps upstairs in front of the house.

"About 9 o'clock I finished ironing and started home, telling the boys to follow me after I got home and lighted the house. It is only about 100 feet from the back door of the house where I had been to my own back door. I carried my ironing board with me and was walking rapidly, singing.

Necessary to Pass Her.

"When I got nearly up to the back porch I heard a noise at one end of the back windows. As I stopped to listen I saw a man jump down from the window nearest me and start to run. He ran toward the back fence and had to pass directly by me.

"I threw down my ironing board. I knew there was a ball bat on the back porch by the side of the kitchen door and I grabbed for it. There was a broom right by the side of it and I got the broom instead. I struck the man and the stick broke at the first lick.

"I followed him and got close enough to hit him with the rest of the stick. It was short and I pounded him pretty hard with it, hitting him most of the time on the shoulders. Finally, just as he jumped the back fence, I hit him as hard as I could, using both hands, and the stick broke again. He ran down the alley and got away before my sons, who had heard the noise and had come to see what was the matter, could get close enough to see him."

Mrs. Schipp is positive the intruder was the one who visited the house Saturday night while she and Ervin were sitting on the back porch. She says she had a good view of him and could identify him.

"Ervin and I were sitting on the back porch Saturday night when he made his appearance," said Mrs. Schipp, "coming in my back gate. I told Ervin to be quiet and we would see what he was going to do. He could not see us, as we were in the shadow of a vine that grows over the porch. He came up to the ice box by the kitchen door and raised the lid.

"Then I got the ballbat that was sitting by my chair and started after him. He ran and I did not get to hit him. But I saw him clearly and I am sure it was the same man who was here Wednesday night."

Mrs. Schipp is muscular. Her husband was formerly a sergeant on the police force.

CAR JUMPS TRACK, TEARS SIDEWALK

Fifteen Passengers Given Bad Scare in California Avenue Accident.

A northbound Bellefontaine car was badly damaged when it jumped the track at 3252 California avenue about 5 p. m. Wednesday. It traversed the 15 feet to the sidewalk, plowed up a 6-inch curbstone, bent over a wrought iron sidewalk trolley post close to the ground, crossed the granitoid beyond and ran into the side yard of Conrad Krause at 3244 California avenue.

Motorman R. E. Stanley was caught in the vestibule and was badly frightened, as were also 15 passengers. Stanley was taken to his home, 4426 Virginia avenue, but according to Philip Lore, foreman of the men which repaired the damage Thursday, he was back on duty in the morning.

The fender and front windows of the car were smashed, but the car was able to complete its trip when pulled back to the track by another car after a brewery autotruck had failed to move it.

The car left the rails on a straight piece of track. The railroad men declare that sand and mortar from a new building in course of construction at 3248 and 3250 California avenue filled the rails so that the flanges of the car wheels lost their hold.

John Schwerzler Jr. of 3252 California avenue, who owns the new building, asserts that the car was running at an undue rate of speed and that the track at this point is out of gauge and otherwise defective and has been frequently patched up.

SLAYER IS CAUGHT SLEEPING IN LOFT

He Admits Killing Man Who Acted as Peacemaker in Fight.

While acting as peacemaker between two men fighting in a barn, Frank Stansbury, 22 years old, of 3729 Ferdinand place, was stabbed. He died in an ambulance while being taken to the City Hospital. Otto Walls of 4141 Lee avenue was arrested while asleep in a hayloft at King's highway and Natural Bridge road two hours later and admitted stabbing Stansbury. He said he acted in self-defense.

Walls is said to have engaged in a fight with Ben Humphreys, 17 years old, of 2618 North Taylor avenue. A large crowd of men had collected at the stable in the rear of 2517 North Taylor avenue Wednesday evening, and were drinking beer in the rear when the men began fighting.

Stansbury arrived after the trouble began and told the men to stop fighting. The fight continued and he is said to have pushed Walls back and to have stepped between him and Humphreys.

Walls resented this and is said to have attacked Stansbury. After several minutes Stansbury exclaimed that he had broken a blood vessel and was taken to a drug store near by. He was weak from the loss of blood when he reached the place. A physician in the crowd made an examination and found that he had been stabbed in the groin, and that an artery had been severed.

An ambulance was called at once. In the meantime all efforts to stop the flow of blood were futile. The wounded man was put in the ambulance and died before the hospital was reached.

Five men who were in the barn when the cutting occurred were arrested and taken to the Deer Street Station. It was found that Walls was not among them, and policemen were sent out to look for him. He was found asleep in a hayloft with a negro.

At the Deer Street Station Thursday Walls said to a Post-Dispatch reporter:

"Stansbury was always buttin' in and looking for trouble. Me and Humphreys were only wrestling there, as we done lots of other times. It was all good natured. We wasn't fightin' at all. Stansbury come and separated us, and after he did me and him got into a fight. He choked me and punched me one in the lip. I got out my pocket knife and I held it ahead of me. I suppose he run into it."

Humphrey said: "Walls and I was only wrestling like we had done before often. It was all good natured fun. Stansbury thought we was fighting, and separated us. Then him and Walls had some words. We only had one can of beer."

The knife with which Stansbury was stabbed is at the station. The blade is two and one-half inches long. The extreme end is broken off.

SPLINTER IN HIS CHEEK.

Boy Is Injured When Playground Swing Hits Him.

Isadore Mandel, 14 years old, of 1217 North Fifteenth street, is in the City Hospital recovering from a wound caused by a splinter from one of the swings in the Carr Park Playground, which was driven through his cheek bone just under the eye. Isadore was standing near one of the swings when the boy in it lurched, throwing it to one side. A long splinter was hanging to the seat board and this struck the Mandel boy just under the eye, penetrating the soft bone and going into his head about an inch and a half.

It was at first said that the wood pierced the brain, and that the boy would die, but the youth jumped out of his cot at the hospital Thursday morning, washed his hands for breakfast, and then washed the beds in his ward.

Surgeons state that the splinter entered the head on the inside of the orbital plate, but that it did not reach the brain. The eyeball was missed by a fraction of an inch.

WOUND GROWS SERIOUS.

Man Shot by Fireman Undergoes Second Operation.

Norman Davison of 1826 Papin street, who was shot in the leg by John McDonough, a member of the Fire Department, who lives at 1930 Papin street, because of a remark made to McDonough's stepdaughter, is in a serious condition. His leg is swollen and infected, and gangrene is feared. A second operation was performed at the City Hospital Thursday.

McDonough was freed by Judge Tracy when the case was heard in the City Hall Police Court.

Unclad Negro Chased.

A negro scantily dressed, chased by a policeman, created considerable excitement in the neighborhood of Academy and Delmar avenues early Thursday. The negro was Henry Page of 5056 Morgan street. He had been affected by the heat and threatened to kill his wife, after acting strangely for several hours. He was captured after a chase of several blocks, and was taken to the City Hospital.

FRANCIS TO SEE KAISER SEPT. 1

World's Fair Medal Will Be Given to Emperor William at That Time.

Walter B. Stevens, secretary of the World's Fair, received a cablegram Thursday from David R. Francis, stating that Emperor William of Germany had promised to give Mr. Francis an audience Sept. 1. Arrangements for the audience were made through Ambassador Charlemagne Tower.

Mr. Francis will remain abroad longer than he had intended, owing to the time set by the Kaiser for the audience. He will give to the Kaiser the medal voted by the directors of the World's Fair to Germany's ruler.

CAPITAL'S GAIN, 5 YEARS, 41 PER CENT

Prosperity of Uncle Sam's Manufacturing Industries Is Unequaled.

This country is a —— of a success.—Speaker Cannon.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Unequaled prosperity in the manufacturing industries in the United States for the calendar year of 1904 is shown in a census bulletin just completed, which is compared by the Census Bureau with a similar census for the year 1900.

The number of manufacturing establishments in the country as shown by the last census is 216,262, an increase of 4 per cent over 1900. Capital increased during the five years from $8,978,823,200 to $12,686,265,673, or 41 per cent.

In the same period the total value of products increased from $11,411,121,122 to $14,802,147,087, a gain of 30 per cent. In the same time the number of wage earners increased 16 per cent and the salaries 30 per cent.

EAST SIDE NEGROES DESERT THE G. O. P.

Seeking Recognition, They Form Political League for Campaign.

The negro voting population of East St. Louis is in rebellion against what they term "the willful forgetfulness of the Republican party," and are demanding "recognition" in proportion to their voting strength. They have announced that they consider their debt to the Republican party paid, after the faithful work of these many long years, and threaten to vote for whom they please, regardless of party, unless the Republicans "wake up and cease their forgetfulness."

In their efforts to convince the party that they are entitled to a division of the proceeds of politics, the negroes have formed the St. Clair County Negro Political League, with a main office in East St. Louis.

The league, at a recent meeting, bewailed the fact that the negroes have "been removed from every committee in the city and congressional district, leaving up without representation in the party councils," and condemned and opposed such "taxation in any form without representation." The members also set forth that their representation at conventions is constantly being reduced.

Before leaving the party of their childhood for good they have adopted these resolution, which they call an ultimatum:

"Whereas, we have waited patiently, but in vain, for some show of recognition from our Republican friends whom we have blindly supported for many years too long, and

"Whereas, we have grown old in the rear ranks of that party; our heads have become hoary and our shoulders stooped under the weight of promises made just before election to 'get the boys in line'; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we are politically of age, and we no longer need guardians to look after our political interests, but have, at last decided to use aright the brains which God has seen fit in his wisdom, to give up."

The campaign for the election of county officers is on, and the election will be held in November. Some of the Republican leaders attribute the defection of the black wing of the party to the fact that a negro was not placed on the Republican ticket for the Legislature.

BECOMING A MOTHER is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Book containing valuable information free.

BRAIN KITCHEN FOR TIRED CLUBWOMEN

Literary Dietaries and Thought Gems, in Short Orders or Out of Stock, Served on Mental a la Carte Plan by Chicago Establishment.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—A "brain kitchen" which has undertaken to supply literary dietaries and thought gems to tired clubwomen on the a la carte plan, opened its doors for inspection today.

"We have undertaken to furnish the clubwomen with papers on all subjects," said the chief chef. "We are filling a long-felt want. The clubwoman should not sacrifice her home for the club. We make it possible for her to fulfill both obligations."

"Do you suppose any of the clubwomen will have the nerve to buy their speeches and palm them off as their own?" she was asked.

"Do I?" demanded the chief chef, speaking below her breath, so as not to disturb the throbbing brains. "Why do you suppose I am here?"

The chief chef then explained that she would make a specialty of short orders, served out of stock at a moment's notice to clubwomen who are "up against it." Written-to-order essays will cost more.

"You needn't laugh," the chief chef snapped. "We supply men as well as clubwomen, and, in fact, we have a large number of men customers."

On the west wall of the little room stands a huge cabinet filled with carefully typewritten manuscripts and arranged alphabetically according to the subject matter.

"Travelogues" with steropticon views of the countries "written up," bring the highest prices. They may be bought for from $10 to $100," according to the prominence of the country traveled. A "travelogue" on England can be purchased for $10. As familiarity with the Straits Settlement is not so general, a "travelogue" on this region costs $100.

The same principle is carried out throughout the graded list of prices. A Charles Dickens essay brings $5, while the Servant Girl Problem is catalogued for $20.

"We are the greatest help to the clubwomen in the work of arranging their yearly programs," said the woman in charge. "Our trade is not as good in Chicago as it is in the rural districts. We do an extensive mail-order business."

PAID POLITICIAN, DIDN'T GET WORK

Syrian Complains Go-Between Wouldn't Return $10 He Gave for Letter.

ROSSKOPF NOT TO ACT

Valliant's Secretary Says Official Will Be Dismissed if Bribed.

Thomas Tayal, a Syrian of 1018 Papin street, tells a convincing story of how he paid $10 to obtain the recommendation of a ward politician, through whose influence he was told he could procure a position on the St. Louis Street Department. He says friends of his obtained work through the same medium.

Assistant Circuit Attorney Rosskopf said Thursday that no criminal prosecution could be brought in the case if only the politician accepted money. If any city employe received a share of it, he said, bribery charges could be brought, but Tayal does not charge this. Rosskopf said the matter was one for investigation by Street Commissioner Valliant.

Charles Kretchmar, secretary to Commissioner Valliant, said that the matter would be thoroughly investigated, and that if any city employe was found to have accepted money he would be dismissed. He does not believe, however, that this happened.

"Men come here constantly," Kretchmar said, "with letters from ministers, doctors, lawyers, business men and politicians. They are sent to the superintendents of the districts, who may employ them if he sees fit. They are as likely to be employed if they have no letters. It is largely a question of physical fitness for the work.

"It is possible that some ward politician is charging money for letters of this sort. But I am persuaded that no district superintendent or other city employe would take a chance of dismissal for the small amount involved.

Would Disregard Letters.

"If it is found that any person has been charging for his recommendation to the department, his letters will hereafter be absolutely disregarded."

Tayal is unacquainted with the laws of this country, and says he paid the money in good faith, being told it was necessary before he could get work. At the house where he lives is Assaf Shamas, another Syrian, to whom Tayal says he paid the money as go-between.

After paying the money, Tayal did not get work, he says, and he complained. Shamas refused to return the $10, Tayal charges, and Tayal was later the victim of an assault, in which a brick was thrown at him. Warrants were issued by Assistant Circuit Attorney Rosskopf against Assaf Shamas, Shahem Shamas, a brother, and Albert George. All live at the Papin street address.

Tayal, after the assault, appealed to the ward committeeman in the district where he had asked for work, and was told the committeeman could do nothing for him. The committeeman told him he knew nothing of the case, except that he had been asked to obtain work for Tayal, and that he had been unable to do so.

SAVES DAY, LOSES 30.

Man Who Took Wagon Fails to Satisfy Judge.

Sidney B. Hudson pleaded guilty in the Court of Criminal Correction Thursday to stealing a wagon from H. R. Graham of 3523 Greer avenue.

"Why did you take the wagon?" asked Judge Moore.

"My own wagon was out of repair," said Hudson, "and I did not want to lose a day. I am in the hauling business."

"Well, you'll just lose 30 days," said the Judge as he sentenced Hudson to a month in the Workhouse.

POLLARD PLEDGE ON BET.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Pollard of 1436 Old Manchester road are awaiting the arrival of a suite of parlor furniture won by them in a bet with friends over their marriage.

When Pollard, who is a nephew of Judge Pollard of the Dayton Street Police Court, attained his majority, friends told him the next thing he would do would be to get married. Three of the friends offered to bet a suite of furniture that they would find out his plans before he married. They took a "Pollard pledge" to keep the wager. Half an hour later he was on the way to St Louis with his bride, Miss Ida Bender of 2125 Singleton street. Judge Kane performed the ceremony and Pollard telephoned to his friends to buy the furniture.

Dispute Over Copper Wire.

The Chicago House Wrecking Co. has filed suit in the United States Circuit Court against the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Co. for $50,000, the value of wire which the wrecking company alleges should have been turned over to them, but was withheld by the Exposition company. The original contract under which the wire was furnished the Exposition company provided that it should be taken back at 55 per cent of the cost. The wrecking company contends that it purchased the contract for the wire from the American Steel and Wire Co., which furnished it in the first place.

CLOVER BRAND.

"The Shoes That Put St. Louis on the Map."

Annual Banquet Held at the Planters.

A feast of ample proportions and a flow of business soul was given the traveling host of Wertheimer-Swarts Shoe Co. in the banquet hall of the Planters last evening. Last night's affair exceeded in point of enthusiasm anything of the sort heretofore held. Music was furnished by a full orchestra and the decorations in natural flowers and clover leaves were profuse, artistic and novel. The menu card was a large four-leaved clover, bearing the company's cabalistic advertising phrases: "The best aid to a shoe trade," "The first footwear family of the West," "The shoe house that advertises shoes," "Growing fastest without a fuss," "We ship in an hour," etc.

To avoid any undignified display the salesmen were invited, individually, to be present at the banquet at 7 o'clock.

After the serious business of dining was finished, chairs were pushed back, cigars produced and President Wertheimer extended a most hearty welcome and congratulations upon the splendid showing made by the salesmen during the past year. He spoke of the marked success which had attended the company's policy of adhering to absolute value in the shoes and announced several new specialty lines, among them the "Wertheimer," the highest-priced, highest-grade shoe ever made in the West. He next spoke of Dr. John Wilson Gibbs' "Electricura," "the only electric shoe," saying that Wertheimer-Swarts Shoe Co. had secured the right to manufacture this shoe under letters patent covering the world. C. L. Swarts gave a pertinent business talk, which bore upon methods of house and salesmen as being inseparable. Mr. Swarts' remarks were vigorous and to the point, carrying that earnestness which characterizes the serious business man. G. W. Milius spoke, applauding the splendid results which had been secured by faithful work with a perfect product. Mr. Millius said, in part, that the faith of clover brand salesmen in clover brand shoes was founded upon a rock and was immovable.

Other speakers were J. W. Bernd, Alex G. Millius, C. B. Hill, W. T. Jackson, J. R. Rice, J. L. Lehmann, Aubrey Hart, W. R. Tucker, D. K. Emerson, R. G. Lynch, J. E. Denman, F. J. Hahn, J. E. Black, W. L. Baillio, Louis Wertheimer, L. H. Applegate and G. W. Fleming.

Every man present evidenced that wholehearted enthusiasm in and for "the shoes that put St. Louis on the map," which is born of absolute confidence in the product and methods of the concern.

The steady commercial advance of Wertheimer-Swarts Shoe Co. is surely a magnificent example of the success which comes from sanity and dignity in methods. The lines are sharply drawn and must not be overstepped. The modern penchant for bombast will not be entertained and horse sense, top-notch quality in the goods, the granting to the dealer and his customer every opportunity for investigation and comparison and an unyielding dependence upon the shoes as their best argument, have gained for Wertheimer-Swarts Shoe Co. the incontestable title of "Largest Fine Shoe Exclusivists." It is not so much how much, but how excellent, and most excellent is the least that they will accept from their workshops. The salesmen are ready for the most thorough, active, aggressive campaign in the history of this sterling old company. The tremendous and solid growth of the past will be more than duplicated.

KEEP YOUR DOOR LOCKED.

Thieves Play Havoc With Those Less Careful.

Mrs. Stella Lucas of Chicago, who is visiting at 2306 Pine street, was robbed of $10, a ring worth $5 and pearls worth $25 by a thief who stole her purse from her trunk. She reported the burglary Thursday.

William S. Schneider of 2650 California avenue reported that he was robbed during the night of a gold watch worth $80 and $14 in cash.

Policemen Armstrong and Kelly arrested R. W. Whitney, 32 years old as he tried the door at 1205 Franklin avenue during the night. He is held for investigation.

Bitten by Neighbor's Dog.

While playing in the yard at the residence of William Linsig, 218 Barry street, Joseph Platt, 5 years old, of 210 Barry street, was bitten on the hand and arm by a dog belonging to Linsig. The boy was taken to the City Dispensary, where the wounds were cauterized.

LIVELY CHASE OF STEERS IN CITY STREETS

Long-Horned Animals Escaped While Being Unloaded From Car.

ARE SHOT BY POLICEMEN

Before Their Deaths the Steers Kept Locality in Turmoil for Hours.

ANIMAL ATTACKS WAGON

Pedestrians Are Also Compelled to Run to Escape Vicious Horns.

Two wild and huge horned Texas steers broke through the cattle pen gates on the unloading platform of the St. Louis Dressed Beef Co. at the Missouri Pacific Railroad tracks near Papin street at 2 o'clock Thursday morning and, eluding all efforts to capture them, terrorized the neighborhood until nearly noon.

One was corralled in a vacant lot at McPherson and Vandeventer avenues and was shot by Policeman Kelly. The other was shot while reclining peacefully in the long grass in the huge vacant lot bounded by Vandeventer and Laclede avenues and West Pine boulevard and Sarah street.

The steers made their escape from the platform on which they were unloaded from the stock car at the beef company's yards by knocking aside one of the gates, which are thrown across the platform to guide the cattle straight ahead into the pen. Forcing their way between the car and the now open gate, the long horned giants thundered down the length of the platform and leaped off the end. The smaller animal dashed east along the railroad tracks to the Grand avenue bridge, where it left the tracks and disappeared in the darkness.

Steer Possessed Speed.

The other beast galloped up Papin street, followed by several of the unloading gang, in charge of Foreman Charles Fox. At Vandeventer avenue the steer turned north, easily distancing its pursuers. After running a few blocks down Vandeventer avenue he turned west in Forest Park boulevard.

He traversed but one block on the boulevard, turning north again at Sarah street until reaching the huge vacant property at Laclede avenue. Here he dashed through an opening in the fence and took refuge in the high weeds in the center of the open ground. He remained here the rest of the night.

Attacked Passersby.

The other steer was discovered in a vacant lot at the corner of McPherson and Vandeventer avenues about 6 a. m. by a lamplighter, who barely escaped with his life. The man was passing the lot when he was startled by a sudden charge of the steer, which he had not noticed. He says that one of the horns struck his heels as he was fleeing as fast as possible.

About 7 o'clock the wild animal charged a passing ice wagon and crashed against the step on the rear of the vehicle. The occupants were not injured.

A short time after the steer, which seemed to be after blood, chased a street cleaner across Vandeventer avenue, the poor fellow climbing up a telegraph pole to save himself from the angry brute.

The steer quieted down somewhat after this incident and retired to the middle of the lot, where he stood, sullenly staring at the crowd which was rapidly gathering in the vicinity, but which remained at a safe distance.

Unable to cope with the animal, the packing house employes telephoned to the police, and Policeman Kelly was sent to the scene with a rifle. He killed the steer with two shots.

The other steer was killed in the same manner a short time afterwards.

WILL DECIDE FATE OF NEGRO TROOPS

President Roosevelt and Gen. Bell Go Over Brownsville (Tex.) Situation.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Brigadier-General J. Franklin Bell, chief of staff of the army, and Gifford Pinchot, chief of the Forestry Bureau of the Agricultural Department, were in consultation with President Roosevelt at Sagamore Hill today.

Gen. Bell said he came at the suggestion of Gen. Ainsworth, military secretary, in order that the War Department might know exactly the President's ideas and desires regarding the difficulty at Brownsville, Tex., between United States colored troops and the residents of that place.

Gen. Bell said the colored troops at Brownsville had been moved to Fort Reno, and replaced by a company of white soldiers. This action had been taken in compliance with telegraphic request from the State officials. It was desirable, he said, to discuss the whole situation with the President before any further action was taken.

Mr. Pinchot said he came to Oyster Bay to discuss the forestry situation with the President. Both expect to return to Washington today.

SCARED BY SNAKE.

Reptile Was Dead, but Negro Janitor Did Not Know It.

"Buck" Bailey, the negro janitor at the Clayton Courthouse, is missing. He has been missing since 10 a. m. Thursday, when he saw a snake. He had attended a swell wedding the night before, and was dozing in front of the Courthouse when Deputy Sheriff Olderworth slipped the reptile, which he had killed, over the janitor's shoulder.

Bailey awoke with a shout that startled Clayton. When last seen he was rapidly vanishing in a northeasterly direction.

The snake was a blue racer four feet long. Olderworth had 57 varieties of convulsions in his merriment at Bailey's fright, and it was half an hour before Courthouse employes revived him.

Only 7 more Days of our Removal Sale

IT is getting to the point where it is only a matter of hours before Grand-Leader will cease to be located at Broadway and Washington, and into those few hours we must crowd the normal business of almost a month.

THERE remain on hand thousands upon thousands of dollars' worth of merchandise in every department. We expect to make a clean sweep of these goods, for the reason that we have placed irresistible prices on everything. We are not taking the tremendous loss as a matter of choice, but as a matter of necessity, it being imperative that every department sell out completely, and in order to do so we must force the selling; therefore, we are compelled to make extreme sacrifices.

THE opportunities this sale offers can only be appreciated by the shoppers who are familiar with merchandise values, and a trip through the store will tell them in glowing terms of saving chances never before equaled in the city. Realize for one moment, everything in the entire establishment from top to bottom is offered at a price that represents a saving of 25 to 75 per cent.

OWING to the badly broken condition of many of our stocks, it is impossible to mention the various items. There is hardly enough of anything to supply the thousands that would respond to the announcement, and having a few dozen of an article would mean disappointment of many.

Accept the few items that we mention as an illustration how we are selling everything in the store, and bear in mind that this sale will continue with all its intensity until the closing hour.

Cars of Washington Avenue Line to Run on Olive Street.

STREETS IN BAD REPAIR

Space Between Tracks Not Properly Repaved, Valliant Complains.

In the track reconstruction already completed and in that contemplated before November, the United Railways Co. will spend, one of its officials declares, $850,000 in 1906. The entire amount of construction to be completed before October is 28.12 miles of track. Of this 20.25 miles have been completed. The cost of reconstruction is estimated at $25,000 to $30,000 a mile. The company proposes to construct 30 miles of track each year.

The reconstruction of the tracks on Washington avenue, between Eighteenth and Fourth streets, will begin in a few days, and will be completed in two weeks, Manager McCulloch announces. During this time Park and Compton cars will run east on Pine street from Eighteenth street to Fourth street; north on Fourth to Washington avenue and west to Eighteenth. Delmar and Page cars will run from Washington avenue south on Twenty-first street to Olive street; east on Olive street to Fourth street; north on Fourth street to Washington avenue, and then west.

Cars on Park avenue, between Jefferson and Grand avenues, are being operated over a temporary track laid on the street near the north curb because of the reconstruction work being carried on there.

Streets in Bad Shape.

Complaints of the paving between the rails of the United Railways tracks have been sent to Street Commissioner Valliant. Mr. Valliant says some of the streets are in almost a dangerous condition for driving, that the company is slow in making the street repairs, and that he has found it impossible to persuade its officials to do more. Capt. McCulloch says he knows that the streets are in bad condition between the tracks, but that they will be repaired in a short time.

The work on Seventh street between Franklin and Cass avenues is pointed to as an illustration of the slowness of the company. Excavation was completed and the track laid on Seventh street more than a week ago. Then the work stopped, and for more than a week the 2-foot excavation containing the tracks has been left open, a menace to traffic, almost blocking the narrow thoroughfare and causing several accidents.

The track to be reconstructed before November is:

Washington avenue, between Eighteenth and Fourth streets, 10,074 feet; Park avenue, between Jefferson and Grand avenues, 10,240; Tower Grove avenue, between Blaine and Magnolia, 8470 feet; Grand avenue, between Arsenal street and Gravois avenue, 7300; California avenue, between Chippewa and Meramec streets, 5060; Fourth street, between Pine and Chestnut streets, 426 feet. In all, 7.87 miles.

NO HOME FOR MUSEUM.

Demolition of Present Quarters Is Threatened.

John H. Terry, chairman of the House Committee of the St. Louis Public Museum, has written a letter to President Francis of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Co. asking that he use his influence to prevent the demolition of the west annex of the Art Palace, now the home of the museum. There are now exhibits stored in the annex valued at $300,000. If the Chicago House Wrecking Co. tears down the building, as is now planned, the promoters of the museum say they will have no place left to store the exhibits.

Subscriptions are being received to a fund to erect a permanent home for the museum, but the directors desire to have the exhibits remain in the Art Palace annex until the new building can be completed.

The Exposition officials say they are under contract to restore the park to the city and to remove all temporary buildings. They say they have no power to allow the building to remain standing unless the Mayor agrees to the plan.

CUPID IN BIBLE CLASS.

James I. McClelland to Wed Sunday School Pupil.

The bachelor days of James I. McClelland, manager of the American Real Estate Co., 313 North Ninth street, will soon be over. In October he will marry Miss Louise Merrick, daughter of a manufacturer of New Brighton, Pa.

Mr. McClelland is superintendent of the Washington and Compton Presbyterian Church Sunday School, and teaches the Bible Class. He is a leader in Christian Endeavor work, and has been president of the State and city organizations. Miss Merrick was a member of his Bible class during a stay in this city, whither she had come to care for a sister being treated at a sanitarium.

The young ladies of the Bible Class were quite surprised when they first learned their teacher intended to marry the new member of the class.

His business friends were also surprised, as they believed he would never marry, having passed middle age without a helpmeet. Mr. McClelland has made his home at 4917 Fountain avenue. He is visiting at his fiancee's home in Pennsylvania, it is understood.

MAN'S LEG SEVERED BY FALLING STONE

Huge Rock Drops on Alton Quarryman, Making Him Unconscious.

LIMB ROLLS OFF CLIFF

Laborer Unable to Account for Loss of Foot When He Awakens.

A thin flat stone, weighing 200 pounds, with an edge as sharp as that of a hatchet, fell 100 feet upon the leg of Nelson Lewis, an Alton quarry worker, Thursday, and amputated the leg as cleanly as a surgeon's knife could do it. The severed ankle and foot rolled down the cliff, and Lewis regained consciousness to see a stump, where a few seconds before had been his lower leg and foot.

Lewis is 56 years old and lives with his wife and four children on Belle street. He worked at the John Armstrong quarry a mile from Alton. He sat in an offset of the steep cliff of the quarry, chiseling into the rock to make an opening for the dynamite caps. He was about 15 feet from the bottom of the quarry and fully 100 feet from the top.

He sat on a rock with his legs stretched before him. In his hands he held the mallet and chisel and was pounding at the rock when the accident occurred.

Above was the rock, 6 by 4 feet, loose and almost ready to fall. It averaged four inches in thickness and tapered to the finest kind of an edge at the one side. There was no warning when it fell. No other stones or pebbles went with it.

Man Soon Unconscious.

The stone sped down, sharp edge foremost. When the knife-like edge struck Lewis' leg, Lewis never knew what happened. He became unconscious instantly and rolled over on the rock.

The quarry workmen gathered about and saw the clean amputation. One of the workmen noticed the severed part of the limb near the foot of the cliff and climbed after it. Other men cared for Lewis.

He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital. During the delay in removing him from the out-of-the-way quarry Lewis' blood ebbed away. He was so weak from the loss of blood when he reached the hospital that the surgeons despaired of saving his life. The lower part of the leg was taken to the hospital.

GIRLS ON STRIKE; PHONES TIED UP

Chicago "Centrals" Stay Out Rather Than Enter Office by Back Way.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Two hundred telephone girls employed in the central exchange of the Chicago Telephone Co. struck today, badly crippling the service.

The cause of the strike was an order issued by the company directing the girls at "Central" to enter the building through a rear door, which, in order to reach, they were compelled to go through a passageway 100 feet long.

The girls declared that the passageway is muddy, even in the daytime, and dark, slimy and slippery at night. There are three saloon entrances on the alley and the girls declared that they are annoyed by the hangers-on of those places.

One hundred and fifty other girls struck within an hour of the first strike, making a total of 350 who went out. Seven thousand telephone girls in the business district were put out of commission.

WOMAN'S DIVORCE LEGAL.

Judge Vacates Order Against Former Delmar Singer.

Judge Douglas of the Circuit Court Thursday vacated his order requiring Mrs. Olivia Weinheimer, former member of the Delmar chorus, to show cause why the decree of divorce which she obtained from Frank Hawkins July 5 should not be set aside. This relieves Mrs. Weinheimer from being declared married to Hawkins after she had taken Charles J. Weinheimer for her second husband.

At the time of her suit for divorce she was asked by Judge Douglas if she contemplated marrying some other man, and she replied in the negative, but shortly after the divorce was granted she married Weinheimer, who lives at 3301 South Broadway. July 26 the order now vacated by Judge Douglas was issued.

DROPS UNDER TRAIN.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HELMETTA, N. J., Aug. 23.—Dr. John Holmes, aged 65 years, a retired physician of Cranbury, deliberately walked in front of a Philadelphia express and was instantly killed. The engine tossed him 50 feet, breaking his neck.

He had made several attempts at self-destruction within the past month.

H. Hiemenz Realty Co.'s Sale.

Henry Hiemenz Realty Co. closed a sale yesterday of a dainty little brick dwelling, four rooms, bath, hall, sidewalk, sewer, alley, stable with two rooms; lot 37x129, built by Gus F. Vogel for a home, was sold to J. H. Brinkmann, who will occupy it.

Four Less Places to Drink.

Excise Commissioner Mulvihill has revoked the licenses of the following saloon keepers: John Weber, 3607 Kosciusko street; Abe Friedman, 153 North Broadway, and Ulrich Bruger, 2001 Pestalozzi street. All were accused of violating the Sunday closing law. George Roth of 1564 South Second street has been cited to answer a charge of keeping a disorderly house.

Something New in Telephone Service.
After you have located yourself in the "New York Limited" of the Pennsylvania lines, which leaves at 1 o'clock daily, you can telephone home without leaving the train.

Forman Recluse's Executor.

Judge Douglas, in the Circuit Court, Thursday sustained the action of Judge Crews of the Probate Court in declaring Acting Mayor Forman the proper administrator of the estate of Alex. Ferguson, the recluse who died in Ava, Ill., Aug. 21, 1905, leaving an estate valued at over $40,000. The greater part of this estate consisted of bonds deposited in a St. Louis bank, and Mr. Forman was requested by the heirs of Ferguson to act as administrator. Public Administrator Troll objected to this, and asked Probate Judge Crews to remove Forman. When Judge Crews refused, Troll appealed to the Circuit Court.

W. L. DOUGLAS

THE BEST $3.50 SHOES FOR MEN

Do you wear W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes? If not, you should give them a trial, because they are the best shoes produced for the price; this is proved by my sales. I make and sell more men's $3.50 shoes than any other manufacturer in the world.

THE MOST SATISFACTORY.
"I am wearing W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes and it gives me great pleasure to recommend them to the public. I formerly wore higher-priced shoes with less satisfaction. If I pay more for shoes in the future it will be for Douglas."
R. G. LEWIS,
Gen. Merch., 818 Belt Ave.

If I could take you into my large factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you how carefully W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater value than any other make.

BOYS' SHOES, $2.00 & $1.75. Just the same as my men's $3.50 shoes, the same leathers, for $2.00 and $1.75.

Wherever you live, you can obtain W. L. Douglas shoes. His name and price is stamped on the bottom, which protects you against high prices and inferior shoes. Take no substitute. Sold in W. L. Douglas exclusive shoe stores in the principal cities, and by the best shoe dealers everywhere.

Fast Color Eyelets used exclusively. Catalogue mailed free. W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass.

KANSAS CITY IS STORM-SWEPT; DAMAGE HEAVY

Police and Firemen Save Residents of Little Italy From Drowning.

BASEMENTS ARE FLOODED

Street Car Traffic Tied Up and Electric Light Plants Crippled.

CEMETERY IS INUNDATED

Rainfall of 5.93 Inches in 3 1-2 Hours Breaks All Previous Records.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 23.—A terrific rainstorm prevailed in Kansas City and vicinity early today, causing more or less serious damage.

In Kansas City 5.93 inches of water fell, a record for the time, three hours and a half.

Low lying lands were flooded and the police and fire departments were called upon to rescue two persons from basements in Little Italy, in the north end of town, and in the east and west bottoms, where the water entered many small houses. Several downtown basements were flooded and goods damaged. Trees were stripped of their foliage and hundreds of sparrows were killed. Telephone poles were blown down and street-car traffic tied up.

The Quindaro powerhouse was flooded, putting several car lines out of commission on the West Side. The Roanoke, Prospect and Vine street lines were also tied up for several hours.

Many downtown buildings had from three to five feet of water in their cellars.

The electric light plants were also crippled by lightning. A few houses were also struck by lightning, but no serious damage was done.

VENIRE IS ARRANGED.

Jurors to Be Chosen in Smith Peonage Case.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., Aug. 23.—At a special session of the Federal Court held here yesterday before Judge Lewis of Colorado, acting for Judge Finkelburg, a venire of jurors was selected in the Smith peonage case.

On request of District Attorney D. P. Dyer, Cape Girardeau, Mississippi, Pemiscot, Stoddard, Shannon, Dunklin, New Madrid, Reynolds and Scott counties were eliminated from the list and jurors will be drawn from localities least affected by public discussion of the case.

Car Bumps a Building.

R. E. Stanley, a street car motorman, is at his home, 4426 Virginia avenue, with an injured back and internal injuries, caused when a car on the Bellefontaine line jumped the track and smashed into a building at 3252 California avenue Wednesday evening. The damage was $100.

BULL MARKET WIPES OUT 300 BUCKET SHOPS

Policy King Al Adams' Chain of Brokerage Offices Will Suspend.

LOSSES REACH $3,000,000

Former Convict "Backed All Sheets and Split Commissions," but Game Failed.

COMPANY WILL ASSIGN

Over 25,000 Outstanding Accounts Throughout Country Awaiting Adjustment.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Three hundred brokerage offices in the East and South, comprising the "Al Adams chain of bucket shops," which have been operating under the name of M. J. Sage & Co., will close, wiped out by the great rise in stocks. The parent house at 1 Montgomery street, Jersey City, was the scene of a conference last night in which arrangements for an assignment today were discussed.

The bull market of last week and the tremendous advance of Union Pacific and Southern Pacific hit Adams, the former policy king and Sing Sing convict, so hard that he notified his bucket-shop representatives that no further advances could be expected from him. His losses on "The Street" last week were nearly $500,000. What M. J. Sage & Co. lost will only be known when the extent of their liabilities to their 245,000 customers comes out.

It is estimated that the losses to bucket shops and customers together will reach $2,000,000 or $3,000,000.

Albert J. Adams, when he came out of Sing Sing, started Maurice J. Sage at the head of the bucket shop chain and also paid $1,000,000 for a mine in Mexico and advertised its stock for sale.

Last year, when the slumps of the early spring and fall came, the firm of M. J. Sage & Co. lost nearly $2,000,000, but they never defaulted in payment to their customers, and the fact doubled their business. They were "in right" on the cotton market during the great Price move and nearly recouped their losses of 1905.

Adams ran the bucket shop game just as he did the policy game in the old days, with this one difference—that in policy he fixed the "drawings" to suit himself, but in the new game had to take the chances of the market quotations. Sage & Co. had no branch houses under that name. Their Brooklyn office, for instance, was at 44 Court street, where "Irwin & Co." received orders. The manager was M. J. Sage's brother.

"Adams backed all the sheets and split the commissions," is the way the slang of Wall street describes their operations. Any man who wanted to open an office to receive bets on the stock market was authorized to place on his sign "Correspondent of M. J. Sage & Co., New York," then he sent half his commission on stock transactions to the parent house and the parent house received the winnings and paid out the losses. The branch bucket shops acted as agents and paid their own expenses out of their half of the commissions. Al Adams, or "M. J. Sage & Co." backed the game.

LESLIE CARTER PAYNE OUSTED BY MISS MUNRO

Actress-Bride Also Sued for Back Rent by Her Former Friend.

INTIMACY IS BROKEN OFF

No Longer "Leslie" and "Norma" or "Affinities" Since Former's Recent Marriage.

CLAIM EACH OWES OTHER

Portrayer of Zaza Faints When Dispossession Writ Is Finally Served.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of t e Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Mrs. Leslie Carter-Payne, the auburn-crowned emotional actress-bride, has been served with a dispossession notice at her town apartment, 36 West Fifty-ninth street, at the instigation of her recent bosom friend, Miss Norma Munro, daughter of the late publisher, Norman Munro. Mrs. Carter-Payne has also been sued for $1592.52 back rent, with interest to Aug. 1, 1906, in a city court action entitled:

"Henrietta E. Munro, plaintiff, against Caroline Dudley Payne, defendant."

Henry Bogert Clark of 11 Pine street, attorney for the Munro family, who also lives at the Fifty-ninth street apartment, promises other suits and sensations in the just-begun Carter Payne-Munro feud. Henrietta E. Munro is Miss Munro's mother and executrix of the Munro estate, which is to be partitioned upon the sale of their beautiful country home at Monmouth Beach, N. J.

Miss Munro, before leaving the city a few days ago with her 300-pound athletic brother, Henry, for Bar Harbor, Me., told friends that Mrs. Carter-Payne owed her $10,000 and that she had authorized Mr. Clark to begin legal action for its recovery. Mrs. Carter-Payne is prostrated over this sudden change in her "dear Norma" and her friends declare that Miss Munro is greatly mistaken—they claim Miss Munro owes Mrs. Carter-Payne over $25,000.

No. 36 West Fifty-ninth street is a part of the Munro estate. It is an up-to-date apartment building facing Central Park. Mrs. Carter-Payne, then plain Mrs. Leslie Carter, moved in nearly a year ago. She took the western half of the second floor, directly across the hall from a luxurious suite of rooms occupied by Miss Munro.

Painting Turned Face Down.

Until the advent of young Mr. Payne Miss Munro was to be found in the rooms of the actress quite as frequently as in her own, and until her return from the fateful New England motor trip, when Mrs. Leslie Carter became Mrs. Carter-Payne, there hung a magnificent painting of the actress in the "Fountain Room." This picture now lies face downward on the floor and two doors especially cut through from the Munro apartment—one from Miss Munro's study and the other from her sleeping chamber—have been bolted on the Munro side. Even the Venetian windows have been double locked and further closed by the placing of scantling braces upon the inside.

Jean Baptiste Louis, butler to the actress, responded to the push button of the Carter-Payne suite today. The obsequious Louis has long been in the service of the actress and is her faithful bodyguard. He is short, swarthy and extremely Carteresque in manner.

"She eez not here," he declared to a reporter with much gesture and without quiver of an eyelash. Mrs. Leslie Carter (he did not say Mrs. Carter-Payne) eez left for Shelter Island Heights in her automobile at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. I am"—

"Jean, Jean," cried a Zaza-like voice from within, and the butler looked foolish.

"Well," he went on, "I see you know her voice. She will see nobody—nobody."

He then vanished, only to reopen the door a few moments later, with the information that Mrs. Carter-Payne's counsel was Edward Lauterbach, whose address is the Edgewood Inn, Greenwich, Conn. He added: "Mrs. Carter wants you to go and see him."

Fainted When Summoned.

When Louis had gone to attend to some new want of the actress, and returned, he continued: "Mrs. Leslie Carter is very much upset over this trouble with Miss Munro. When the summons was served, she fainted. I was going to leave some weeks ago, but Madam begged me to stay, and as I have been in her service so long, I could not refuse. Miss Munro's claim is an outrage, for she never gave Mrs. Carter $10,000—it is all the other way."

"How was that?" was asked.

"Because Miss Munro didn't have the $10,000," he whispered fiercely. "Why, Mrs. Carter has spent $80,000 since last fall and she loaned $25,000 of it outright to Miss Munro. Mrs. Carter cashed many of her checks and some came back—we have them. The advances were made upon representation by Miss Munro that she was soon to get a settlement from the large estate of her father."

"Then Mrs. Carter does not owe $10,000 to Miss Munro?" was asked.

"She does not, and I know," stoutly declared Jean Baptiste Louis. "Miss Munro used to bring her friends into Mrs. Carter's apartment and we had to entertain them, night after night, and Mrs. Carter always footed the bills, until she got short. I know, for I paid the bills. You see, Miss Munro got wind we were going to sue her, so she trumped up the story that Mrs. Carter owes her money.

"Miss Munro and Mrs. Carter have not been good friends since my lady's marriage. The other knew what was coming. Mrs. Carter had told Mr. Lauterbach the whole truth of the affair, and we have the checks. Mrs. Carter was going to sue for her money, but Miss Munro saw her lawyer and sued first. Mrs. Carter is very much annoyed at being served with a dispossess—but positively she will not talk."

"Has a compromise been suggested?" was questioned.

"You will have to get that information from Mr. Lauterbach," was the stout retort of Louis.

An imperious female voice, now raised to high pitch, summoned the butler again and he vanished, with the concluding remark: "Mr. Payne is here and so is Dudley Carter, but it would be useless to see them."

Evades Service a Week.

The entire building bubbles with the story of the serving of the papers on Saturday last on Mrs. Carter-Payne in the Munro suit.

She had been practically a prisoner in her own apartment for an entire week, and when City Marshal First, employed by Mr. Clark, finally got the papers into her hands, she fell into a faint which was not of the stage variety.

Mr. Clark first gave the summons to Paul Geber, elevator boy, who tried for a week without avail to reach the actress. He managed to incur her displeasure to such an extent that he feared to remain in the building. The boy quit his job today.

To a reporter the elevator boy said: "Dudley Carter carries a revolver, and I have quit my job because I am afraid of him. I felt the revolver sticking from his pocket when he was riding in the elevator. But before I leave the building I am going to punch that French butler. If it had not been for him I would never have got into all this trouble."

Herman Boehme, chief engineer and general custodian of the building, keeps to the basement. He had one experience with the actress, and his nerves still sag, he says.

"On Friday Mrs. Carter-Payne sent for me. I went up to fix something, but she was the matter and not the bathroom," Boehme explained.

"'I hear you have said I owe Miss Munro and a lot of tradesmen,' she says to me.

"'So, so,' says I.

"'Well, that is a great white lie. Miss Munro owes me. Now, where did you get your information? Come, answer quick.'

"Then I tells her how Miss Munro's maid, Sarah McGarry, came up from Monmouth Beach, N. J., Tuesday, and that we went into Miss Munro's desk and got out all of her checks, which are sent back after they are used. This made Mrs. Carter-Payne so mad she walked the floor and crunched her hands.

"'Did you say that I had Miss Munro write me checks?' said Mrs. Carter-Payne.

"'That was what Sarah said,' I told her quick. 'Sarah said you would coax Miss Munro to write some checks, and that she had seen you do it.'

"'Oh, she did, did she?' said Mrs. Carter-Payne. 'Well, I would have you know I am a hard-working woman and that Miss Munro owes me a great deal of money. I am an honest woman—so don't you dare circulate any stories about me.'

"Well, since then I keep my mouth shut," said Boehme, and he shook nervously as he glanced upward in the direction of the Carter-Payne apartment.

Mr. Clark is spending today as the guest of Jacob Stout at Bellport, Long Island. It was said at his office that Mrs. Carter-Payne would be out of the Munro apartment by Sept. 1.

Financially Embarrassed.

That Mrs. Carter-Payne is extravagant her friends admit. It followed upon her return to New York, after the iceberg attitude of Belasco, and for a brief period she was slightly embarrassed financially.

Friends of Miss Munro and David Belasco are held responsible for reports circulated to the effect that Mrs. Carter-Payne was "broke." This is far from the truth, her own friends assert, and her first week's salary under her new management will wipe out all her obligations to tradesmen.

Mrs. Carter-Payne is not the first woman of prominence involved in a financial clothesline row with Miss Munro. Mrs. Robert Osborn, of dressmaking and playhouse fame, is still squabbling with the young heiress over diamonds, notes and dresses. Mrs. Osborn and Miss Munro were at one time the warmest of friends.

In the Broadway chatter heard today was a report that the "break" made by Dudley Carter in announcing his engagement to Miss Munro after his mother's marriage to Payne was the cause of the estrangement between the two women. It is asserted, however, that the actress fell out with Miss Miss Munro before her marriage to Payne, the young actor—in fact, only a few hours before.

WHITE FROCK FAMINE AGITATES SARATOGA

Lack of Laundry Facilities Stirs Wrath Among Gentler Sex at American Spa and One Proprietor, Fearing Husbands' Raids, Asks Police Protection.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 23.—A white frock famine is causing a lot of anguish among the ladies who have come here for the races and are staying at the big hotels. The lack of adequate laundry facilities is responsible.

There are only three establishments in town, outside of those conducted by the leading hotels, and none of them have facilities to supply the demand. The result is that young and old ladies, who are in the habit of changing their white linen and lace gowns two or three times a day, have been compelled to resort to fabrics of color or get through the day with one white frock.

The laundrymen are very prolific in their promises of immediate delivery, but such a surprise is a good deal in the nature of a joke, as it requires from three days to a week to insure the return of an article sent them for refurbishing. So indignant are the ladies at the Grand Union and United States hotels, who, by reason of the overworked condition of the laundry branches of those establishments, have been compelled to send their white goods outside, that they held an indignation meeting today and sent a delegation of husbands to talk matters over with the independent laundry people.

One of the laundrymen, who was advised of the anger of his fair patrons and of the intended visit of their husbands and sweethearts, asked the Police Department today to send around a couple of men to prevent damage to himself and to his plant. A number of women, convinced that force will not and the white goods tragedy, have undertaken to do their own laundry work, particularly the small pieces. In almost every window fronting on the streets or in the courts of the big hotels flimly handkerchiefs and delicate articles of feminine wearing apparel are to be seen plastered against the window pane, drying.

Twice a day a freight car full of white frocks is sent to Troy upon the guaranty of the laundries there that they will be returned ready for another campaign within 24 hours.

BRYAN STANDS FOR NEEDED REFORMS

Ex-Senator Jones Says Nebraskan and Roosevelt Advocate Same Measures.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Ex-Senator James K. Jones, who managed Mr. Byran's campaigns in 1896 and 1900, regards the present movement toward the former candidate as a spontaneous uprising and predicts his election.

In speaking of President Roosevelt having made a wholesale theft of Democratic thunder Mr. Jones said:

"I think it is well understood all over the country that the President has compelled his party to take a very positive position on the question of control of the trusts and a number of other issues which were strongly presented by the Democrats in 1896 and have been consistently adhered to by that party. The best work done by the present Congress has been done by Democrats as well as by Republicans, in support of the policies initiated by the Democratic party in 1896 and since, and the Democrats in Congress are entitled to as much credit for the accomplishment of these purposes as are the Republicans.

"This is certainly not an argument why the Republican party should be retained in power, rather than the Democratic party. I think the people generally understand that the Democratic doctrines, backed by the personal force of the President, have accomplished these results against the wishes of a very large portion of the Republican party, if not a majority of it.

"These facts should be an argument in favor of Democratic supremacy rather than Republican supremacy, for the body of the Democratic party believed in these things and the body of the Republican party did not. I think the spontaneous movement of the country in favor of Mr. Bryan is certainly a very great compliment to him. It would seem that Mr. Bryan might confidently look for a very large vote in the next presidential election. It was on these issues Mr. Roosevelt received his large vote in the last election and I do not see why Mr. Bryan should receive a smaller vote two years from now, as nobody has any doubt about his convictions and they know he stands for all the great reforms which President Roosevelt has advocated."

MRS. LONGWORTH TO UNVEIL SHAFT

To Preside at Dedication of McKinley Monument at Columbus.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 23.—"Yes, Mrs. Longworth will unveil the Ohio monument to William McKinley at Columbus Sept. 14 next. She promptly accepted the invitation," said Congressman Nicholas Longworth to the Post-Dispatch today.

"I thought it eminently appropriate for her to do so, considering the connection between Mr. McKinley and her father, and in view of the manner of her father's accession to the presidency."

Mr. Roosevelt's son-in-law, in his shirt sleeves, cool and placid, sat in his office in the First National Bank Building, where a minute before he had been conferring with "Wes" Rippey, the agent of the Longworth estate.

"What part will Mrs. Longworth take in your campaign for re-election to Congress?"

"She will not take any part. That is settled absolutely," Mr. Longworth began.

"But for a noble, wifely woman, a Roosevelt, to remain inactive," the correspondent ventured.

Far from being displeased Mr. Longworth smiled and said: "The story that I have engaged rooms for my wife and myself and many friends at the State convention in Dayton, is not true. I don't think I shall attend and certainly Mrs. Longworth will not.

"Regarding the so-called Cleveland 'picnic,' at which it has been stated Mrs. Longworth is to start her campaigning for me, she was not even invited to be there. I was invited to attend and speak at the reunion, but found that I could not do so because other matters intervene. So I have declined the invitation."

So it is determined that Mrs. Longworth will not follow the example of many American women in England who take most active part in politics and who campaign for their husbands.

Father Bond's Jubilee.

The presentation of a chalice and of a set of vestments will be the principal feature of the celebration of his twenty-fifth anniversary as a priest of the Redemptionist order by Rev. Father W. T. Bond, C. SS. R., of St. Alphonsus' (Rock) Church. The vestments will be consecrated Sept. 8, the day of the celebration, at high mass.

SOME DEMOCRATIC FOLLY.

Judge Thompson, the Bryan champion on the floor of the Illinois Democratic convention, finds victory and vindication in the action of the convention. "A Virtual Triumph," says the local Democratic organ. Let us see.

Through Judge Thompson Mr. Bryan demanded Roger C. Sullivan's resignation from the National Democratic Committee. Mr. Sullivan refused to resign. Mr. Bryan demanded that the convention oust Sullivan from the committee. A resolution to that effect was defeated by a two-thirds vote.

In the event that the convention refused to denounce Sullivan Mr. Bryan demanded that no resolution indorsing his candidacy for the presidency be passed. The convention passed a resolution enthusiastically indorsing William Jennings Bryan as its sole choice for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1908.

Sullivan organized the convention and named the temporary and permanent officers. Judge Thompson was permitted to speak only by courtesy of Mr. Sullivan.

"And yet it was a glorious victory," "a virtual triumph" for Mr. Bryan and his champion. What magnificent optimism! One is filled with wonder and admiration at the winged cheerfulness which can thus pluck the laurels of conquest from the ashes of disaster. It is splendid. Such optimism may be struck down, but never defeated. It can find vindication in a series of defeats and a chance of a successful campaign in a constantly diminishing vote.

The Illinois convention illustrates the folly of the present Democratic proceedings. The Democrats are fighting phantoms and chasing visions. Two years before the presidential campaign Mr. Bryan is asserting the privileges of the chosen leader of his party. His party is indorsing him for the presidency merely for his personal qualities as a good man, a great orator and an eloquent political preacher. No issues have been formulated. The questions to be determined in the campaign are unborn. The fitness and availability of the candidates in view of the actual conditions of the campaign cannot be judged because the conditions are unknown.

What vitality or sincerity can such a political movement have? What real significance or value for the people has it? What suggestions of a genuine and beneficent movement for the public welfare does it contain?

Apply the test of sincerity to the resolution passed by a convention dominated by Sullivan, the erstwhile enemy of Bryanism, whom Bryan denounced as a political highwayman. What sympathy is there between Bryan and Sullivan? What real sympathy or common ideal is there between Bryan and most of the men—trust magnates, corporate attorneys, speculators, franchise grabbers, political hacks—who are pushing to the front as the advocates of the Bryan candidacy? What are the principles, the policies, the issues they represent? Has the leadership of the Democracy fallen so low—are its resources so meager that its sole hope of success lies in the personality of one twice-defeated man, regardless of principles, regardless of policies, regardless of public needs or live issues.

The names of the Republican and Democratic candidates for Treasurer of Illinois must have been taken out of Upton Sinclair's "Jungle." Both end in ski—Smulski and Piotrowski.

A TALE OF DOMESTIC AFFECTION.

The goodness of Mr. Abraham White, [illegible] of St. Louis, to Mrs. White is a beautiful story of the domestic affections as it came by telegraph from New York to the Post-Dispatch.

Part of his recent "clean-up" of two millions in Wall street, Mr. White invested in buying the McCall palace from which its late tenants had been evicted by process of the ultimate law. Then it was found that Mrs. White would need money to buy linen and silver.

This is where Mr. White's domestic affections bloomed and burgeoned into brilliancy. He proceeded to the nearest ticker and ordered enough Great Northern preferred and Northern Pacific to make another small clean-up. He watched the ticker until Mrs. White called for the check. Then he ordered the stock sold and cleaned up exactly $12,500.

Some husbands might have kept the extra $500 for an evening out with the boys after their faithful wives had gone to sleep. But not so Mr. White. He is not a husband of that kind. He wrote the check for the whole $12,500 and gave it to Mrs. White, who went away happy, to buy the linen and the silver.

This is the story of the domestic affections by telegraph. Is it not beautiful? Would not a husband of that kind make any reasonable woman perfectly happy?

But then there is another question, the question of who is to earn this money? Mr. White did not earn a single cent of it. He merely cleaned it up as he had already cleaned up his two millions.

We will know more about that later perhaps. It will all be earned, every cent of it, and out in the West here we are earning more money of that kind to promote the domestic affections than they are anywhere else in the country.

When it is added to the percentages taken out of our products before they can be "moved," we may find this $12,500 part of an old story which may become more moving as it grows older and continues to repeat itself.

We may yet have an opportunity to treat the Cubans as unfairly as we have treated the Filipinos.

ILLINOIS PRIMARY LAW'S LOOPHOLE.

The first test of the new Illinois primary election law shows that the bosses, for whose overthrow it was designed, can drive a coach-and-four through it.

Russel and Smulski were the leading Republican candidates for State Treasurer.

Russel was supported by the people in the country and Smulski had behind him all the strength of the Cook County organization. At the direct primary in the State, Russel easily beat Smulski, who showed no strength whatever outside of the cities. Russel, with most of the popular vote, and most of the instructed delegates, was confident, and the people, thinking he was nominated, relaxed their vigilance.

But the bosses did not surrender and alertly devised a plan to nominate their man in spite of the will of the people expressed at the primaries.

The primary election law requires merely that the delegates from a county shall vote on the first ballot for the candidate for whom they are instructed by the popular vote. When the Republican convention met yesterday at Springfield the bosses went to work among the Russel delegates and influenced them to leave Russel if he was not nominated on the first ballot. On the first ballot Russel led all of the candidates, including Smulski, but fell short of a majority of the votes, whereupon his delegates obeying the bosses, left him and voted for Smulski on the second ballot. Smulski, whose candidacy was positively disapproved by the people of the State, was nominated and the popular expression was nullified.

Gov. Deneen was in absolute control of the convention and must be held responsible for this subversion of the popular will. The reformers who secured the passage of this Illinois primary election law, which has excellent points, should at the next session of the Legislature amend it so that the candidate who receives the largest number of votes at the direct primary is thereby declared nominated, without being subjected to the plotting of the machine at a convention.

Should the Mysterious Stranger get no swift kick in Missouri, the ticket may be Roosevelt and Hadley.

A $500-A-YEAR JEWEL.

The name of Probate Judge Frank Perrin of St. Clair County, Ill., ought to shine on the pages of history with an attractiveness like unto that of apples of gold in vessels of silver.

This is because Judge Perrin opposes a movement to increase his salary from $2000 to $2500 a year, saying that he considers the first-named sum an ample annual compensation for the work to be done. He opposed the increase when another man held the job, and he opposes it now that he himself would be the beneficiary.

Judge Perrin is consistent, and consistency is a jewel—rare enough under ordinary circumstances and peculiarly rare when it costs $500 a year to the man who exercises it. St. Clair County should cherish Judge Perrin as one among ten thousand—and even the fact that he's a candidate for re-election shouldn't diminish the cherishing. The platform of economy upon which he stands has all the appearance of possessing an honest foundation.

The royal women of Europe "tower above their spouses." American women, however, "tower above their spouses," no matter how tall the spouses may be.

"FINANCING" REVOLUTION.

In the first Havana telegrams to the Post-Dispatch announcing the probability of revolutionary disturbances, there were two or three inconspicuous lines, stating that a "revolutionary agent" had been collecting money in New York for several months past.

This may or it may not be wholly reliable. It may be taken for granted, however, throughout the troubles in Cuba, that the real revolutionists are outside of Cuba.

The "revolution" opens just at the opening of a congressional campaign in this country. The demand for intervention in Cuba comes with it. The history of this kind which has been made from the outside for Spanish-American and Asiatic countries extends through nearly a century of such coincidences as this. It is marked in Asia from the first opium wars to the international necessity which forced the Allies to burn Tientsin and sack Pekin. It is part of the history of Central and South America during the whole of their troubled history of revolution "financed" from the outside for the purposes of the great modern pirates of international industry.

In spite of all this, the people of Cuba have a right to self-government. Every American who believes in self-government as a right for Americans must believe in it and support it for Cubans.

COLD STORAGE RHYME.

O, I wish I were with Peary
Where the coldness never falls,
Where the life is hard and dreary
And the heart of human quails;
Where the penguins solitary
Sit around upon their tails;
Where the seal is all unwary
And the polar bear regales
His hungry Little Mary
On the unsuspecting whales.

O, I wish I were with Peary
Where the polar people go,
Where the winds are never weary
And the icy currents blow;
Where the natives love to skid in
Everlasting falls of snow;
Where the sun is all but hidden,
And the day is as the dusk,
Where the sea is blizzard-ridden
And the oxen smell of musk.

ENVY.

The climate may defeat me,
The polar bear may eat me,
And I may die like a gnat;
Or I may be duly kippered,
Like a herring in a vat;
Or the winter, softly-slippered,
May entrap me like a rat;
But I'd go to my Creator
From the boss refrigerator—
Helgho, hot-weather hater!
Think of that!

BY WIRELESS FROM MOSE.

ABOARD-SHIP, Aug. 23.

We are Moseying homeward.

The weather is brooding, but I don't care. I've gone down with Bryan twice, and I am at his service again.

We were leaving Europe's hospitable shores.

"They made so much of me," Mr. Bryan sighed, as if reluctant to leave.

"Why not?" I asked. "You are near-President."

His eyes dwelt upon the dim shore as if he were seeing it for the last time.

"Mose," he said, affectionately, placing his hand upon my shoulder, "if I don't win this time I simply couldn't come back here after all this."

"No," I agreed, "they will be sure to think we misrepresented things."

The news that Roger Sullivan had triumphed over Bryan in the Illinois convention occasioned the ship's officers the gravest concern. The life-saving net was spread all around the ship the rest of the day, but Mr. Bryan remained in his stateroom and made no attempt to jump.

The captain and I are old shipmates all ready. We played shuffleboard this morning, and he showed me the place where Columbus' crew mutinied and tried to throw him overboard.

Speaking of Columbus, Mr. Bryan got off a good one last night. We were bowling along under the stars, and I said:

"Wouldn't it be wonderful, Mr. Bryan, if you were Columbus just crossing the sea to discover America?"

"Yes," he said, smiling, "it would be miraculous, considering that America has such a knack of seeing me first."

THE MAD MULLAH'S DIARY

Translated for the Post-Dispatch

By Clark McAdams.

WEDNESDAY.—I am not very mad this morning, having had a great fright. Mrs. Mullah is mad. She broke out at breakfast, and since I have seen her in a royal tantrum I can't believe I ever was really mad.

In the summer we have breakfast in the Howol-Dis-Annex, which is in in the palm grove east of the harem. The sweet waters of the Blue Nile sweep by at our feet, the lotus flowers along the bank, and the dew flashes upon the disc-like leaves.

I had a very mad day yesterday, and slept late from exhaustion, so that when I came out this morning to have a few grits and a baked bud with the lotus eaters, Mrs. Mullah was awaiting me with a look in her eyes which made it a safe and sane bet that it was her day to be mad.

The things a mad man will do are as nothing compared to the things a Mad Mullah will do. We had eaten our buds, and I had just knocked my scarab upon the table three times as a sign to the slaves to bring on the coffee, when Sadi-Sheba, upon my right, said:

"Tell-Em-Fib was over from Abyssinia yesterday, and he says they have a great stir up at Adis Abebba. Menelik's favorite wife, Salomel, the pretty brown girl who was down here with him on the hippopotamus hunt last spring, has run away with Ho-Tiron, the royal tattooer, and the trail has been lost over beyond Duk el Arba."

"I didn't think she would stay with him long," said Cleopatra, opposite me. "He followed her around down here as if he were afraid she would get away from him. That's what he gets for marrying out of his class. An Abyssinian has no more business marrying an Arab than an Arab has marrying a mermaid, king or no king."

"She is the greatest flirt I ever saw," said Iris, upon my left. "I could have told Menelik some things about that woman had I known he were going to—"

"Mrs. Mullah!" I shouted, rising from the royal tabouret and rapping the table with my scarab, "it is your royal lord's pleasure to command that this scandal mongering cease. It is shameful. How am I to maintain peaceful relations with King Menelik when my harem bandies his name across the table every time we eat and shamelessly gossips about his royal household? It is maddening. Is it any wonder I am mad?—one lone man among 40 women? Is it any wonder I run amuck? Is it strange that every now and then I rush from the harem frothing at the mouth and that the news goes around the world that the Mad Mullah is having one of his spells?

"Mrs. Mullah," I said, in the way of a monarch uttering a royal edict, "from this time forth I forbid any and all 40 of you to talk scandal, either above or below a whisper. I forbid you——"

As one woman Mrs. Mullah arose and smote me hip and thigh, uttering the while such cries as those of the lioness robbed of her whelp. I barely escaped into these bullrushes. My prime minister, who is now gone to offer the Madame my apologies, says the palace is destroyed, the camel herd stampeded and the Grove of Daphne pulled up by the roots. Allah! Allah! Allah!

All Aboard!

By Trance to Mars.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Does "Mystic" explain all trance scenes as being dreams? Some of these trance "dreams" have given correct pictures of places and buildings and people who could not have been known to the person entranced. The Mars scenes may not be true, but earth scenes have been easily verified. Perhaps Leyson "lit" on some part of Mars different from any seen by others. If a traveler from another world were to reach our monkey land first he would judge us all by that. MASTIC.

Victims of Money Sharks.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Why don't Gov. Folk enforce the laws against the money sharks or instruct the Prosecuting Attorney to do so? They prey on the poorest and most helpless people. And it is a shame in the officials to permit such work. I have seen one very distressing case and understand there are hundreds of such cases.

Paving Between Tracks.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Will you kindly make an effort to discover the reason why the Street Commissioner is so blind to the condition of the paving of the Transit company's tracks?

Look at Laclede avenue, Grand avenue, Page boulevard, Easton avenue, Chouteau avenue, west of Sarah street; Morgan street, west of Fourteenth street; also Taylor avenue line is in an awful condition.

Such a disgrace as the Transit company's paving presents cannot be found in any city in the United States.

Why is the Street Commissioner blind? CITIZEN.

DELIVERY CLERK.

"The Victoria Regia."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

If the lovers of floriculture in St. Louis only knew what a glorious sight awaits them in Tower Grove Park by viewing the "Victoria Regia"—giant water lily—they would think the car ride via Tower Grove avenue small trouble hastening there.

Never before has this wonderful plant attained the size which this season's temperature and the skill of the head gardener has produced.

I saw several of the leaves carefully measured a morning or two since, and they were fully six feet and four inches in diameter; they easily sustain the weight of a full-grown man.

The little pond in the center of the park is fairly covered by the cluster of these beautiful leaves, offset by the splendid white blossoms nearly as large as a man's head.

HENRY P. WYMAN.

Good and Bad in Railways.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Mr. Beggs recently intimated the Suburban system did not pay, saying the public did not pay more than 1-3 cent per mile for travel in the county. Mr. Beggs' statement recalls a story I heard of a railroad extension made into Kansas from Southwest Missouri, some 25 years ago. The laws of Kansas required statements for taxation purposes, and the owners of the road required reports of earnings and profits. The Auditor made his reports at the same time, as required by the laws of Kansas and the owners. The report sent to Topeka, Kan., showed the road to be operated at a loss. The report sent to New York owners showed the Kansas extension to be the best-paying part of the whole system. It is doubtless the same with the Suburban Railways; to the public a bad report is forthcoming, but to prospective stock buyers it's the best investment, because of so many short hauls for 5 cents. THE MOTHERS' CLUB

The Ladies Discuss the Dishpan Bargain Stampede at St. Joe, Mrs. Murphy Cites the Case of Misther Johnson, and Mrs. Alouette Pipes in Her Picturesque Patois.

Written for the Post-Dispatch

By Rose Marion.

"HAVE you heard of that man Johnson that thinks byes should be taught to look for bargains? the idea!" questioned and exclaimed Mrs. Murphy as she felt of the peaches in the baskets, trying of their softness and determining at the same time if they were "cling" or "free."

The only members of the Mothers' Club present were Mme. Alouette and Mrs. Smith, the latter being the latest recruit, who received informal admission shortly after her arrival from a country town. The clerk was busy packing up orders.

"What is that, the bargeen?" asked Mme. Alouette, who counts Mrs. Murphy her dictionary and Encyclopedia Americana as well as her general information bureau.

"When you buy things for a bit less than the man what sells says they're worth. John there'll be after tryin' to sell me these peaches at a bargain before I get away. He'll say they've been handled, and then add a nickel or a dime to their regular price.

"It's no use lookin' for bargains in a grocery store, Mrs. Helloyet," they haven't learned the 99-cent trick yet, and goodness knows if they ever will.

"Bargains is to be found in department stores and down in French Market."

"Bien!" said Mrs. Alouette, "bargeen is the bon marche, je comprends, and in the marche Francais, I shall go there, me, if you show the way."

"Poor little Mrs. Helloyet," said Mrs. Murphy, "don't think they'll talk French to you down there. It's German is the language of the French Market these days."

"Misere," said Mrs. Alouette, "do they talk my French nowheres in this city of St. Louis?"

"Not much," said Mrs. Murphy.

"They have good bargains in St. Joseph," volunteered Mrs. Smith by way of her first contribution to the discussion.

"Sure they do," said Mrs. Murphy, "dishpan bargains, and women gets in wedges and shoves until a half dozen is hurt. All for a 10-cent dishpan. It's to the country you must go for the rale excitement in bargains."

"Are there then bargeens in the campagne?" asked Mrs. Alouette.

"St. Joseph is not country," said Mrs. Smith in the tone of voice a Missouri woman from any place else but St. Louis always speaks of home, "population is 102,000 and growing fast."

"Beggin' your pardon," said Mrs. Murphy, "I was that busy thinkin' of the great thruble there'd have been if men had to do with that wedge making. There'd have been deaths instead of injuries and goodness knows what the country would be after comin' to."

"An' that man Johnson says byes should learn to buy bargains. Mebbe he knows something about street car combinations, lendin' money and the like, but he can't have any byes that he's fond of, or he'd keep them out of the bargain business."

"The man of milk, he is come," said Mrs. Alouette.

"The only rale bargains in St. Louis are in those bottles of his," said Mrs. Murphy, by way of giving the signal of adjournment.

Dickens will says: "I commit my soul to the mercy of God through our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ." If Fielding was religious it must have been in his last years; a son and a grandson became clergymen. Ibsen was confirmed in the church when young. Besant was a divinity student. George Eliot was certainly not bound by any church creed.

The after-milking should be done by the regular milker and need take but little extra time. It is probable that such clean milking is an incentive to secretion, and will increase the total yearly production of the animal. It is the opinion of the writers that the stripping as well as the milking, except in unusual cases, should be done with the whole hand and not with the thumb and forefinger alone. In milking, the thumb should be turned out and never inclosed within the palm, as is often done. The hand should be opened wide enough to allow the teat to fill to its full capacity, and quite a slight upward pressure upon the udder readers every od forefinger should then be closed, third and fourth fin- gers [illegible]

LAWSUITS TO MAKE MR. WILLIAM FORD PLAIN "BILL" AGAIN

Auto Which He Persuaded Wife to Buy for Him Has Been a Trouble Wagon—Police Court Cases and Damage Suit Followed by Divorce Preceeding.

Mrs. Melissa Dunford Ford of 2100 Franklin avenue is going to have it out with her husband, William E. Ford, great grandnephew of George Washington, if anything is to be accomplished by starting prosecutions and law suits.

Within a month she has had two warrants issued against him, has brought suit for possession of the automobile which she bought for him and has sued him for divorce. Within the same period she has also been sued by Mrs. Mary Holverson of 2052 Franklin avenue for damages, but that suit has been withdrawn.

Residents of the 2100 block on Franklin avenue, where Mr. and Mrs. Ford are well-known, are on the qui vive for developments.

It was only a little while after they went to Clayton the latter part of July and were married again, explaining that the certificate of their former marriage had been lost, that Mrs. Ford caused an information to be issued against her husband, charging him with disturbing her peace.

The case was set for Wednesday in Judge Pollard's court. When it was called a continuance was allowed for a week. But in the meantime there had been another disturbance in the Ford family and Mrs. Ford had caused another information to be issued, and George Washington's descendant had been found guilty of waving a baseball bat at Mrs. Ford and had been fined $100.

Auto a Trouble Wagon.

The ball bat episode was caused by the automobile, which has also caused most of the other troubles of the couple.

Mrs. Ford says she bought this auto, but that she has had very little pleasure from it except the pleasure of paying the repair bills. She would never have bought the machine on her own account, but William represented to her that if he had an auto he could make money nights by loading the tonneau with liberal spenders and taking them for spins over the boulevards. It pleased her to see William taking interest that way, and to encourage him she mortgaged one of her farms and bought the machine, or rather enabled him to do so, for it was bought in his name.

The auto has been a regular trouble wagon for her. It has been the cause of at least four of the five lawsuits.

The first thing it did was to get Mrs. Ford into a slander suit. It had been in the family only a little while when William, believing that he could handle the thing in a manner to reflect credit on the Washington family, told his wife she could go along on a ride if she wanted to.

He also sent for a brother of Mrs. Holverson. He couldn't go, but his sister, recently divorced, took his place. It seems that Mrs. Ford did not like that, and conversation lagged. It did not, however, a few days later, when Mrs. Ford passed the home of Mrs. Holverson. The latter was in the yard and a few days later she filed suit for $10,000 against Mrs. Ford, charging that she had talked in a perfectly terrible way. This suit was withdrawn a few days ago.

Mrs. Ford was not convinced that her husband was making the most thrifty use of the machine, and she went to 3045 Dickson street, where he kept it, and tried to get it. Mr. Ford was there and he handled a baseball bat so carelessly that Mrs. Ford and the two men she had brought along to rope it and lead it away withdrew.

He Wrote the Receipts.

But she had her husband in the Dayton Street Court the next morning, and he was fined $100.

Asked by Mrs. Ford's attorneys, George H. Moore and Frank A. Thompson, what his business was, he said he looked after his wife's property. He was asked if he collected the rents, and replied that Mrs. Ford did not trust him to that extent, but he added, with a bright smile, that he wrote the receipts.

Mr. Ford needed some money, and again the automobile came in handy. He had been keeping it with the Fidelity Storage, Packing and Moving Co. He turned it over to the company as security for a loan.

When Mrs. Ford found it out, she brought suit in the Circuit Court against the company to regain possession of the machine. Then she followed that up yesterday by suing for divorce.

Mrs. Ford is convinced that her husband doesn't know when he is well off. She says he could have a good home at her house if he would behave himself. Before she married him she says he was just plain "Bill," but after he became Mrs. Ford's husband people called him Mr. Ford. She has an idea that when she gets through lawing him he will be "Bill" again, with no wife, no automobile and no receipt-writing job.

Millionaire's Son Toils in Machine Shop at Hard Work.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Another millionaire's son has joined the Sons of Toil who labor with their hands. He is Chauncey B. McCormick, the 21-year-old son of William G. McCormick of Cloverdale, Eutaw place, Baltimore. He is working at the hardest and commonest kind of work in the machine shops of a harvester company in this city. Asked why he had chosen the menial life, he replied:

"I just wanted to see how the other half lived."

Young McCormick came here direct from Yale, where he will enter the senior class in the fall. He has been working in the shops ever since the beginning of vacation.

SOCKLESS BATHING GIRLS ARE BARRED

May Not Ride on Atlantic City Trolley Cars, Is Order Issued.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 23.—Socked or sockless bathing girls cannot ride from the beach on trolley cars is the latest dictum of the owners of the car line. The exact authority for the official order cannot be learned from trolley men, but two pretty girls, one wearing half hose and the other, an attractive young miss, whose legs below the knee were innocent of any covering, were refused seats on the Virginia car.

No objection has even been made to any form of bathing rig before today, when the two damsels were politely, but firmly, "flagged" when their unstockinged nether limbs burst on the view of the prudish conductor.

"Ladies, you can't ride on this car," declared the man of the register, as the older of the two prepared to swing aboard the starting car.

"What do you mean?" queried the pretty one, as she swung her skirt and showed an expanse of bare limb beautiful to contemplate.

"Well, ma'am, it's orders," mumbled the perspiring conductor.

The girls were compelled to hire a bus to get to their homes.

HOKE SMITH WINS FIGHT IN GEORGIA

Former Cabinet Officer Defeats Four Opponents for Governor in Hollow Style.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 23.—Hoke Smith's election as Governor is a foregone conclusion. The only question is how badly he has beaten the combined force against him—Clark Howell of the Constitution, J. H. Estill of the Savannah Morning News, Jim Smith, millionaire planter, and plain Dick Russell, a Georgia Judge. Of the 149 counties of the State, it is believed that Smith has carried over 100.

The former member of Cleveland's Cabinet conducted his campaign on the lines of opposition to present freight rates, favoring disfranchisement of negroes and opposition to the ring rule.

The campaign was a long one, full of bitter personal fights and newspaper vituperation.

BURIAL AT FORT WAYNE.

Dr. Williams Was Father of Well Known Author.

The funeral of Rev. Meade C. Williams, D. D., whose death at Mackinac Island, Mich., was announced in Wednesday's Post-Dispatch, will be held Friday at Fort Wayne, Ind., his former home.

Dr. Williams was 68 years old. For many years he had been St. Louis editor of the Herald and Presbyter, which is published in Cincinnati and was widely known through his writings on theological subjects. He had spent his summers for 18 years at Mackinac Island and went there several weeks ago. He was then in good health. He became ill with malaria soon after his arrival, but his condition was not thought to be serious until the day before his death.

He was in the active ministry for many years, occupying pulpits in the Central West. Several years ago he entered the field of religious journalism, becoming part owner and editor in chief of the Mid-Continent, a Presbyterian journal published in St. Louis. This was consolidated with the Herald and Presbyter.

He is survived by four sons, David R., Jesse Lynch, Tyrrell and Burton Williams, and one daughter, Susan Creighton Williams. Jesse Lynch Williams is widedly known as an author and playwright.

Mrs. Hunt, wife of J. S. Hunt of Santa Monica, sustained concussion of the brain, contusions about the head and shoulders. Her condition is serious.

SPEEDS TO WIFE'S SIDE.

Denver Millionaire Hires Special Train to Springs.

In order to be with his wife, formerly Mrs. Eva Goodner of Delmar boulevard, St. Louis, W. C. Carroll hired a special train and was at her bedsire two hours after receiving a message that she was ill.

Mr. Carroll was in Denver when he received the telegram. His wife was in Idaho Springs, Colo. They were married here three months ago. Mrs. Carroll's wealth is said to be $400,000, while her husband is said to be worth $6,000,000.

BRYAN AND FRANCIS.

Gov. Taylor, Noted Humorist, Suggests This Ticket.

"How will Bryan and Francis sound to the Democrats of the country?" said former Gov. "Bob" Taylor of Tennessee, United States Senator-elect, at the Southern Hotel Wednesday night.

Gov. Taylor is widely known as a humorist, and has made successful lecture tours.

TEN MILLION DOLLAR BUSINESS DINNER.

How a Big Shoe House Is Managed on the Co-Operative Plan.

The Directors, Traveling Salesmen, Factory Superintendents, Foremen and Department Managers of the Roberts, Johnson & Rand Shoe Co., Formulating Plans for a Ten Million Dollar Business This Year.

The picture above shows the officers, salesmen, department managers and factory superintendents and foremen at a business dinner at the Planters Hotel, discussing and planning a campaign which is to increase their business this year from eight million to ten million dollars. At this meeting every matter of importance in connection with this year's business was discussed and each man expressed his views on some subject that would make the business grow. Practically all of these men are stockholders, and the man who owns five shares is accorded just the same consideration as the largest stockholder in the company. Most of these men have grown with the company, some beginning as stockmen and packers, and have worked up to the responsible positions they now have. In this wonderful organization every man is given a chance, and he is looked on as an important factor and is expected to express his views, suggest improvements and make his department grow. He is made to feel that the success of the business depends on his department being properly managed. If he is an elevator boy, he is expected to be the best, else by his carelessness the president may lose his life. If he is nailing lids on the shipping cases, he must do it better every day. This principle of doing things better pervades the entire organization.

At this dinner every salesman advanced some idea for the improvement and advancement of this business. The amount of goods that each man is to sell this year was discussed and agreed upon, and each salesman goes to his territory knowing exactly what is expected of him.

In this great shoe organization there are no secrets. Every salesman knows every fifteen days just exactly the amount of goods shipped, not only to his territory, but to every other territory. He knows, also, the amount of goods shipped to his territory every week. The number of mail orders received each week and from whom. He is fully advised all the time as to what is going on at headquarters.

To the systematic way in which this great shoe house is managed is largely attributed its wonderful success. Established only eight years since, with a traveling force of eighteen men, it now travels one hundred salesmen, has a capital of $2,500,000, operates six big factories with a daily capacity of over 40,000 pairs. The management believes in the fullest co-operation with its employes, and as a result every man is always doing things better and feels that his best today can be improved tomorrow.

Enthusiasm is in the atmosphere in every department of this organization, and from this enthusiasm has sprung a business that has no parallel in commercial history. Recently this company made a sworn statement to the License Commissioner that their shipments last year were over eight million dollars, and they expect to reach the ten million mark this year. One hundred traveling salesmen are leaving this week for their territories, each with three trunks filled with samples from their six big specialty factories, and they go fully prepared to present to shoe buyers a line of own make shoes, sold on merit alone. They are especially enthusiastic over their advertised specialities, the "Patriot" shoe for men, "Society" shoe for women and "Eternity" school shoes for children.

The success of the Roberts, Johnson & Rand Shoe Co. is a monument to the principle of co-operative and liberal treatment to their employes, and their immense sales prove that there is truth in their well-known slogan, "STAR BRAND SHOES ARE BETTER."

Lost and Found

IF YOU LOSE ANYTHING—Advertise it here. It will be returned to you if an honest person finds it. Remarkable recoveries are brought about every day through this column. All druggists receive Want Ads for the Post-Dispatch at office rates.
IF YOU FIND ANYTHING—Bring it to the Post-Dispatch Lost and Found Bureau, 210-212 North Broadway. Get a claim check for it. Have it advertised. Reclaim it if the owner does not.
THE LAW—People who find lost articles are interested in knowing that the State law (section 8475 to 8489, Revised Statutes of Missouri, 1899) is strict in requiring them to seek the owners through advertisement and otherwise, and that a failure to do so involves a severe penalty if same can be proven.

14 INJURED IN TEAMSTERS' RIOT

Chicago Police Called to Quell Fighting Between Rival Organizations.

SHEA'S SUPPORTER HURT

Beaten Nearly Insensible—Leader of Revolt Is Badly Injured.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—A clash occurred last night in the hall at 75 Randolph street, between the Cornelius P. Shea faction in the local teamsters' union and the members who are striving to launch another organization under the name of the United Tteamsters of America.

One of the victims of the struggle wa Albert Young, who led the revolt of the Chicago teamsters in the national organization two weeks ago. Young sustained bad bruises on his face. Another victim was George F. Golden, one of Cornelius P. Shea's chief supporters, who was beaten nearly into innsensibility.

Twelve others received painful bruises in the fight.

The trouble was all caused by an attempt made by Golden to have all but Shea supporters ejected from the hall. The chairman ruled Golden out of order and then the trouble started. The climax came when Golden, seizing a chair, swung it over his head and brought it down on Young.

Instantly the fight became general. Chairs and tables were thrown about, while the hostile drivers struggled from one end of the room to the other.

A squad of police arrived and put an end to the fight. No arrests were made.

BROKE LAW AND HIS BANK WAS BROKEN

Saratoga Gambling House Proprietor Hit for $42,000 While "Lifting Lid."

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 23.—It doesn't pay to break the law against "lid" lifting in Saratoga.

The proprietor of one of the leading gambling houses realizes the truth of this statement today. Along with the other promoters of unlicensed rooms, he shut up his shebang 10 days ago. Last night he thought he would take a chance. He opened up his game under the most secret conditions and invited a few bold adventurers to come in and try their luck.

The game was faro and the limit the highest, because he wanted to get the money as quickly as possible, but he didn't. At the end of three hours three men, well known in the sporting world, rolled up into snug bundles $42,000 in the aggregate. Then the gambler decided to close up for good, not because of any fear of the law, but because of the unexpected penalty that had been visited upon him for breaking it. The three men were Bob Tucker, Frank Odell and "Louisville" Smith. They discussed their good fortune with amazing frankness. The only thing that could be gotten out of the gambling house keeper who took the chance was a string of profanity a yard long.

STENSLAND AT LARGE.

Reported Arrest in Mexico Another False Alarm.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Mayor Domotilio Aldana of Aguas Calientes, Mexico, last night wired as follows to the police here concerning the man there suspected of being Paul O. Stensland:

"Nobody by description of Paul O. Stensland, alleged defaulting Chicago banker, in this city. No American of any description under arrest here."

While the city police are at sea, the Pinkerton detectives are on a clew which has led them to Europe and on the way to India. The agency has informed Marius Kirkeby and other directors of the wrecked bank that the arrest of Stensland is thought now to be a matter of only a few days. It was declared that the detectives hired by the directors had struck the right trail. The Pinkertons would only say that the arrest would be made across the Atlantic.

THOMAS FOR GOVERNOR.

New York Democrats Boom Playwright for Honor.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Westchester Democrats are booming Augustus Thomas, the former St. Louis playwright, for Governor. He already has the support of the delegates from the Third District of Westchester County.

It is predicted there will be a stampede for him after he makes the speech of welcome at the reception to W. J. Bryan in Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

Downtown Shooting a Mystery.

Four men are held at the Four Courts pending investigation of a shooting affray at Fourteenth and Market streets Wednesday evening. The men arrested are John McDonald, 18 years old, of 1249 Wash street, and his brother Thomas, 1327 Market street; Walter Costello, 1424 Biddle street, and Henry Medina, 2813 Walnut street. Medina admitted a part in the shooting and gave his revolver to the police. He says he does not know the name of the man at whom he shot. The other three say they were on-lookers. John McDonald, who was overtaken while limping away, denied to policemen that he had been shot.

BOAT CONTAINING 8 BODIES FOUND

Believed to Be Those of Passengers From Ill-Fated Steamer Valencia.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 23.—At an isolated spot on the shore of Vancouver Island today a party of fishermen found a ship's rowboat, containing the bodies of eight persons.

The boat was identified as one that safely got away from the big steamship Valencia of the Pacific Coast Steamship Co., from San Francisco to Puget Sound points, which went ashore on the night of Jan. 22, on Vancouver Island, 120 miles north of Victoria, just eight months ago.

It was known that a raft, on which were eight women, and a boat bearing an unknown number of persons, left the ship, but neither was ever heard of until today. The total loss of life on the Valencia was 119, only 40 persons being saved. Most of the lost went to death when the ship broke in two on the rocks.

BACK TO THEOSOPHISTS.

Lyman J. Gage Returns to New Home at Point Loma.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Lyman J. Gage, who is in the city on a brief visit, expects to return tomorrow to his new home near Point Loma on the Pacific Coast, the home of the Theosophical cult.

Mr. Gage refused to deny or affirm that he had joined the followers of Mrs. Tingley. He asserts he has made his home at Point Loma because he thinks he has found the most delightful part of the whole country to dwell in.

In conversation with Chicago friends, Mr. Gage said that he considered the Theosophists a remarkably interesting group of people, possessed of unusual mental attainments.

GIRL PREACHES SOCIALIST CREED

Crowd So Stirred That Demonstration Is Checked by Police.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—With a bright red flag fluttering above her head, Elizabeth Flynn, a pretty 16-year-old girl, drew a crowd of several thousand people to Broadway and Thirty-eighth street last night while she talked Socialism. After a while she and her party were arrested. She is still a school girl, yet she made such a strong argument in favor of Socialism that many of the old campaigners along Broadway were amazed.

The meeting was held by her father, Thomas Flynn. The crowd listened to the talks of the men, but when the pretty girl began they whooped and cheered so much that 10 policemen were sent to the scene.

The Broadway cars were blocked and while Miss Flynn was speaking, Miss Minnie Schloss, another young girl, left the chariot-like affair from which the speaking was done and began selling Socialistic literature in the crowd.

When a policeman found that she had no license to do this he insisted on arresting the entire party. All were locked up while sympathizers, who defined the action of the police as "worse than in Russia," went out to find bail.

Found Dead in Bed.

William Pulski, a park laborer, 55 years old, was found dead in bed in the gateman's house of the abandoned City Hospital, Eighteenth and Pine streets, Thursday morning by Michael Farrel, a watchman, who went to wake him as usual. It is supposed the intense heat of the past few days is responsible for his death.

MONEY TO AID CROP MOVEMENT

Treasury Orders Deposit of $3,000,000 in 150 Small National Banks.

LOAN RATES ADVANCE

St. Louis and Other Large Money Centers Are in Need of Small Currency.

The financial center was notified at noon Thursday that the Secretary of the Treasury has directed the distribution of $3,000,000 to a number of small national banks in various parts of the country—more especially west of St. Louis.

Inquiry at St. Louis banks indicated that the money is being distributed to the smaller business centers and that city institutions are not included in the list of banks for which the deposits are intended. The telegram conveying the information is given herewith:

"Washington, Aug. 23.—Secretary Shaw has directed that $3,000,000 be placed in about 150 small national banks throughout the country."

This money, according to the statements of St. Louis banks, will be in sums of about $20,000 each, and that small bills will be used instead of remitting the various sums, as the money is intended to facilitate the crop movement which has absorbed a large share of the small currency.

Attention has been drawn by St. Louis banks to the paucity of bills of small denominations. St. Louis banks are following institutions of other reserve points in attempting to husband their supplies because of the approaching heavy demand from the crop-moving sections. The Treasury Department is now requiring payment of the regular express contract rate for transfers of money to any point except San Francisco, hence the only advantage in treasury transfers now is greater speed in remission.

Heretofore an additional advantage has been derived from the deposit of larger bills at New York to be paid at destination in small bills and silver dollars, but now the treasury has scarcely any small bills or silver dollars in comparison with its holdings in previous years. This condition will undoubtedly become more aggravated as the season advances, unless some plan for speedy relief should be devised by the Treasury officials.

The same general complaint is make by Chicago banks and there as here it is expected more money will be furnished than in any previous year for the crop movement.

Relative to the conditions of the local money market it is said one local institution is marking up its time loan rates to 6 per cent on all new business in anticipation of a heavy outflow of currency from now on.

PRIEST CATCHES THIEF.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 23.—Single handed, with a stout cane in his hand and a cassock thrown over his shoulders, the Rev. J. P. Corcoran, a priest in charge of the St. Francis Catholic Orphanage in this city, early this morning faced a desperate burglar in the kitchen of the institution.

Burglars have recently visited the place and Father Corcoran was on the alert. He heard a noise in the kitchen and as he stepped into the room the burglar turned down the light and tried to escape. The priest stepped between the robber and the exit and a struggle ensued.

Father Corcoran finally subdued the thief, confined him in the office and then telephoned the local police, who arrested the man.

When he saw his prisoner distinctly, Father Corcoran recognized Vincent Murray, aged 23, a former inmate of the Orphange, who since leaving the institution has a long criminal record and has spent several years in prison for his crimes.

THREE SHOT IN DUEL.

Texas Men Fight With Rifles as Result of Feud.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 23.—In a duel of rifles precipitated by an old feud in the public road in Gonzales County yesterday, Dan Dorn was fatally wounded, his 8-year-old son shot in the leg and Tom Hunter also badly shot. The participants are both middle-aged men and have families. Over a dozen shots were fired.

Boy Kicked by a Mule.

While attempting to get out of the way of a stream of water from a garden hose held by Erwin Gauch of the Gauch Bottling Works of North High street, Belleville, Henry Niklas, aged 8 years, ran under the heels of a team of mules being driven past. One of the mules kicked the boy on the head and shoulder, causing a fracture of the collar bone and a concussion of the brain. He was removed to St. Elizabeth's Hospital and was unconscious for several hours. His condition is critical.

LOCAL STOCKS STEADY, QUIET

Transactions in Missouri-Lincoln Show Decline of Half a Point.

BANK LIST NEGLECTED

$8000 United Railways 4s Sold at Prices Unchanged From Wednesday.

Trading was only moderately active on the local Stock Exchange this morning and the market ranged fractionally lower on some of the features of yesterday's advance.

Generally the range of prices was steady and firm, the transactions in United Railways 4s being at unchanged prices.

Several sales of Missouri-Lincoln Trust shares were recorded at 140, the price being a decline of half a point under the heavy sales of the shares made Wednesday.

There was no activity in the bank list, but the quotations showed firmness in the most active issues.

BIG FAMILIES BANISH FEAR OF RACE SUICIDE IN BELLEVILLE TOWN

More Than Four Per Cent of the Population Is Included in 79 Households—Ten to Twelve Children Are Not Unusual—Alderman Heads the List.

There is no race suicide in Belleville. More than four per cent of the population is confined to 79 families, the smallest of which is composed of 10 members.

The largest family, as shown by the census recently taken by Prof. W. A. Hough, is that of Alderman John A. Bedel of 224 West Fourth street. There are 14 members of the Bedel family, all living at home. Obviously the Belleville Alderman's idea of race suicide coincides with that of President Roosevelt, but he is not prone to discuss the matter.

Closely following the Bedel family for first place are the families of J. C. Dew, 906 Sycamore street; Peter Gass, 23 South Race street, and George Heibel, 315 West H street. There are 13 members in each of these families, and, though the number is generally regarded as a "hoodoo," none of these families consider it such in family affairs.

In the "12" class there are four families. They are those of John Becker, 113 North Washington street; John Caulfield, 16 Switzer street; Frank J. Faltus, 401 West Second street, and Peter Reeb, 314 South Arey street.

Following these are those families in which there are 11 members. In this class just two dozen have been classified by the census enumerator. They are Charles Hennemann, 114 West C street; Charles Herzog, 130 Missouri avenue; Frank Hoffmann, 615 East Main street; Gottfried Klemme, 718 Ann street; Conrad Koch, 401 South Richland street; John Bingheim, 16 West Fifth street; Valentine Brennfleck, 618 North Spring street; John Wamser, 1424 West Main street; Phillip Yung, 26 North Silver street; George Yung, 611 South Illinois street; John Leonhardt, 108 West E street; Carl Lindow, 607 North Illinois street; George Neumann, 217 South Logan street; John Rodenmeyer, 504 East A street; John H. Schaeffer, 405 Franklin street; Frank Schamonie, 508 East Fourth street; Joseph Schilling, 331 West Ninth street; William Seelmann, 309 North High street; Henry Stoehr, 16 North Silver street; Theodore Deffner, 16 North Church street; Thomas Fischer, 310 North Mill street; Mrs. Bertha Fohl, 609 Rodenmeyer avenue; John Laubner, 113 South Mill street, and August Miller, 722 Abend street.

While there are 24 families in Belleville with 11 in a family, there are just twice that many in which there are 10 members. The 48 families in which there are 10 members are those of Joseph Reis, 209 South Illinois street; Fred Severit, 504 Hardin street; Julius Stauder, 607 East A street; Frank Stockmann, 714 West Main street; George Stroberl, 907 East C street; William Tannehill, 524 Weber avenue; Albert Lenz, 320 North Silver street; William F. Leiter, 1011 Mascoutah avenue; F. S. Lindenberger, 509 South Illinois street; Fred W. Messinger, 610 Freeburg avenue; Philip A. Michel, 921 Park avenue; George Ohl, 801 South Jackson street; Ellis Oliver (colored), 218 West Sixth street; Louis Paule, 508 South Richland street; Nicholas Raab, 1210 Lebanon avenue; Dominic Bauer, 317 North Arey street; Dominic Cordie, 717 Caroline street; William Dombach, 513 Bux street; Dave Eschenfelder, 401 West Fifth street; George Hepp, 641 White street; Gregor Herman, 24 West J street; Frank Hock, 907 West Main street; Edward Hoerring, 10 North Church street; Henry Juen, 421 South Spring street; Alex Kuhn Sr., 212 Logan street; August Viehmann, 208 South Jackson street; George Voelkel, 210 Portland avenue; Albert Wasem, 610 North Spring street; Louis Wegener, 328 Julia street; John Winkler, 501 Mascoutah avenue; F. W. Bockstiegle, 106 Missouri avenue; Peter Buechert, 18 West Fourth street; William Buechler, 509 Taylor avenue; Charles Fischer, 919 North Richland street; John Fluck, 609 Rodemeyer avenue; George Goepfert, 807 Centerville avenue; Cereal Gravelin, 514 Lebanon avenue; Charles Green, 809 Hardin street; William Grossmann, 510 West Main street; James Hall, 913 South Jackson street; Enos Harding, 408 Portland avenue; Paulina Heinrich, 905 South Charles street; Adam Kraft, 622 South Church street; Henry Reis, 121 South Race street; Samuel Tobias, 403 West Second street; Ferdinand Bange, Brackett street; Henry Deppe, Bellevue addition, and J. Rensing, 1121 Freeburg avenue.

These families are only those in which the entire family resides at home. Those in which there are members living elsewhere, or alone, are not included.

STOCKS OPENED ACTIVE, HIGHER

Industrials Have the Strongest Position, but Railroads All Moved Upward.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—On the report that Americans in London had advanced generally along the list ¼ to a point above parity, the opening of stocks on the New York Exchange was along the same line of advance, standard industrials and railways averaging from ½ point to a point and ⅛ higher.

Copper opened at 108⅝, which was ⅞ point higher; Steel preferred opened at 108, which was ½ point higher; Smelter opened at 159½, which was 1⅛ points high.

The opening quotation on the Harrimans showed Southern Pacific at 90, which is ½ point over the close of Wednesday; on a sale of 10,000 shares, Union Pacific opened at 183, which is 1⅛ higher than Wednesday's close; on second quotations, both Union and Southern Pacific lost ½ point.

Erie and Rock Island both opened higher, Erie ⅜ at 45½, Rock Island ⅜ at 27⅞.

Pennsylvania was ¾ higher at 142¼, and Norfolk & Western the same higher.

Missouri Pacific also opened on an advance of ¼ point, the opening quotation being 97.

On a sale of 25,000 shares Steel common opened at 46⅞, ¼ point over the close of Wednesday.

The market was active and the trading of a character indicating another day of large business.

The stock and banking centers were reinforced with information of the most convincing character today of the truth of the statement that a syndicate for which J. P. Morgan & Co is acting are negotiating for the Union Pacific Railroad holdings of shares of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads. The announcement of the incorporation of the St. Paul's Pacific Coast extension on surveys completed a year and a half ago to the east line of Montana from Pierre, S. D., is another demonstration of the intention of the St. Paul management to extend the line to the coast and emphasizes the fact that with two independent transcontinentals in the territory (St. Paul and Chicago & Northwestern) between Union Pacific and the Hill roads (Great Northern and Northern Pacific), the Harriman alliance with Hill is of no force so far as the control of the transcontinental situation is concerned. The new rate law and its rigid enforcement gives the transcontinentals west of Chicago all of the independent protection they require, and it is stated now that the purpose of delay in withholding the ore land transaction, by which Mr. Hill can place Steel in supreme control of the situation in the country, is Mr. Hill's desire first to effect a coalition with Morgan's Erie with his system in the Northwest out of Chicago and second to make a stipulation of some character whereby the United States Steel Corporation will agree to manufacture steel rails and structural iron in the Northwest—probably at or near Duluth, making material for Mr. Hill's railroad on his own rails, giving his road a big opportunity for tonnage of manufactured products into the Northwest, and for export to Japan, China or the Philippine Islands. This would be in line with Mr. Hill's policy of "doing something for the improvement of the Northwest." In a large measure such plans, if obviously in course of execution, would account for the phenomenal recent advances in Great Northern preferred stock, which has advanced 12 points, with 27,500 shares selling Wednesday at $327¼ per share.

Attached is the statement of today's view on the pending transactions, which indicate clearly to New York brokers and railroad executives a coalition between Morgan and Hill:

It is learned from good sources that the proposition to buy the Union Pacific holdings of Great Northern and Northern Pacific stocks, and a lease of the Great Northern's ore properties by the United States Steel Corporation, are by no means the only plans which are under consideration. It is understood that the additional plans that are being worked out involve principally the railroads.

E. St. Louis News

The Hebrew residents of East St. Louis have organized the East St. Louis Zionist Congregation, answering the call of Jewish leaders requesting that the scattered units of the race organize and support the National Zionist movement. The temporary officers are: Chairman, Meyer Hurwitz; secretary, Dave Cohen; treasurer, Ias Pettis. The purpose of the organization is to provide a house of worship in East St. Louis for citizens of the Jewish faith and to establish a Sabbath school for the Jewish children, where the Hebrew language will also be taught. They will also support the movement to re-establish the Jewish State in Palestine.

Cards are out announcing the engagement of Miss Laura Langhauser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Langhauser of 209 North Seventh street, to J. A. Gillespie. The wedding will take place Sept. 21 at the parochial residence of St. Mary's Church, Rev. Father William Cluse officiating.

The funeral of Adam Randolph, 38 years old, who died at St. Mary's Hospital of alcoholism, was held Wednesday from the Dezan-Doussard Morgue to St. Clair Cemetery.

The funeral of Thomas Wakefield, 38 years old, who died at St. Mary's Hospital Monday of Bright's disease, was held Wednesday to Mount Hope Cemetery.

The funeral of Walter Underwood, 27 years old, a bartender, who died Tuesday of rheumatism, at his home, 106 North Tenth street, will be held at 9 a. m. Friday from the family residence to Mount Carmel Cemetery. He is survived by his wife and two children.

Mrs. E. Branson and daughter, who have been visiting Mrs. L. K. Harrington of 1500 Illinois avenue, will return to her home in Henderson, Ky., Sunday.

Thomas McChesney, who was taken to Henrietta Hospital Friday after his right foot had been crushed while working in the Louisville & Nashville Railroad yards, is not expected to recover. His foot was amputated after he was taken to the hospital, but blood poisoning set in and Wednesday his leg was amputated near the knee. He is a switchman and lives on North Thirteenth street.

Lawrence Henderson, 12 years old, was struck by an automobile driven by Si Robinson on Wednesday afternoon, on Collinsville avenue, in front of the Beuner-Brichler livery stable. The boy alighted from a street car and stepped in front of the automobile. He was knocked down and stunned. Dr. A. A. McBrien, who saw the accident, examined him. He was placed in the automobile and taken to his home, 704 Brady avenue. Robinson was arrested and held at the police station for an investigation. He was released when the facts were learned.

A special meeting of the members of the St. Clair Country Club will be held Sunday at 10:30 a. m. at the club grounds, to hear the final report of the committee appointed to complete the purchase of the property occupied by the club. A racing matinee will be given Saturday afternoon and entries have been received for five races.

DEATHS.

HULBERT—Entered into rest on Tuesday, Aug. 21, 1906, at 1:35 a. m., at the home of her daughter, 4331 Lee avenue, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Hulbert, beloved wife of the late George Hulbert and dear mother of Deborah Gilbert, Caroline J. Thompson, Clement L., Samuel G. and Edwin L. Hulbert, aged 63 years.

Funeral services will be held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Gilbert, 4331 Lee avenue, at 3:30 p. m., Friday.

WHEAT BULLS CONTROL MARKET

Opening Weak, but Prices Rally on Prohibition of Russian Exports.

The close on local wheat was strong and the price well sustained after an advance of about a half point over yesterday's close. The market opened weak in sympathy with the weak Liverpool market and fell off to the extent of about ⅜c in the early trading, but rallied later and closed at the high point of the day. The course of other grains during the day followed that of wheat, but only slight advances of ⅛c to ¼c were scored in corn and oats.

The market opened dull and inactive, but livened up later and during the latter part of the session trading was active, with prices fluctuating in the neighborhood of the day's high record.

The foreign markets were irregular and for the most part lower. Liverpool closed ⅛d to ⅜d lower for wheat and ⅛d to ¼d lower for corn. This affected the local market on the early trading, but its effect was lost later and prices advanced on the Russian news.

In the cash market the light receipts, only 40,585 bu, helped prices. A good milling demand was shown at slightly higher prices and the close was firm, with prices considerably higher. The heavy movement in cash grain is about over, but some activity is still being shown. Some elevator demand for cash grain was shown, but the latter was somewhat restricted by the high prices.

Local wheat opened about steady and in the early trading sympathized with the lower cables from Liverpool and declined about ½ point. The main feature of the trading was the unconfirmed cable received stating that the Russian crop is 20 per cent less than the average and that the Government had prohibited any export of wheat from Russia. Traders were rather nervous about acting on this information, as it was not confirmed, and as Russia at present is in pretty bad straits and needs all the cash available she would not be likely to take such a step. Shorts took stock in the report, however, and in trying to cover raised prices. Offerings dried up on the receipt of the Russian cables and this also helped to strengthen local grains. Bear feeling was created early in the day on the report from Minneapolis stating that 25 cars of spring wheat had been received there, and this presaged a big movement up there. This feeling also was lost in the late trading. Minneapolis was strong on the wet weather in Minnesota and North Dakota. Latest reports from the Northwest state that the weather is cloudy and cool.

Corn opened slightly lower, but later an undertone of great strength was developed because of the undeniably small increase as reported by the receivers in the marketing by the country.

Oats were dull, though the prices were firm at the opening, but turned suddenly active and strong later. The close was about on a level with yesterday's.

The Northwestern Miller states that weather in the Northwest for the past week has been favorable for harvest work, but too hot for wheat, which has not matured in the North. It has been very hot in and around Minneapolis since last Thursday, the mercury reaching 90 degrees almost every day and getting close to 100 degrees more than once. Accompanying this temperature were hot winds, which were very severe on the wheat berry, where not fully formed. The late sown wheat is the most affected and the proportion of this in North Dakota and Southern Minnesota is not very large.

An authority is quoted as saying that the hot weather in the corn region will do more good than harm to the corn crop. Corn is having more favorable weather now than it has had for the last three or four years, and the crop is now beyond all danger from drouth or dryness. Advices from different sections predict that reports of damage to the corn crop will likely continue, but say that there cannot be much truth in the reports. Corn was somewhat damaged early in the season, but a good crop will be raised, probably two-thirds or three-quarters of that of last year.

Mr. N. H. Bartlett predicts that the October Government revision will make a big addition to the corn crop, as it did last year and will show largest crop ever raised. He believes the estimates on oats will also be raised.

The Chicago and Northwestern road estimates the corn crop of Nebraska as about the same as last year and an oats crop of 71,000,000 bu. against one of 55,000,000 bu last year.

Primary movement—Receipts: Wheat, 559,210 bu, against 447,166 bu last year. Corn, 268,840 bu, against 423,450 bu last year. Oats, 663,055 bu, against 637,804 bu last year.

Shipments—Wheat, 378,160 bu, against 392,000 bu last year. Corn, 340,565 bu, against 556,000 bu last year. Oats, 318,770 bu, against 449,000 bu last year.

St. Louis receipts and shipments—Receipts: Wheat, 40,585 bu. Corn, 108,900 bu. Oats, 83,200 bu. Shipments: Wheat, 28,275 bu. Corn, 135,825 bu. Oats, 25,545 bu.

NELSON HAMMERS SPARRING PARTNERS

Busy Dane Gives Jack Clifford and Bobby Lundie All They Can Take Care of—Men With Money Think They Can Make Some More by Betting on Gans.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

GOLDFIELD, Nev. Aug. 23.—These are strenuous days for Nelson's sparring partners. Jack Clifford looks like the loser of a finish fight. His eyes are discolored, his nose almost devoid of shape and he bears black and blue marks, evidences of the rough handling which he has been subjected to in his work with the Dane.

The preliminary fight should be an interesting one if both are not too badly used up by the daily bouts with the champion. Clifford is at the weight now and is strong and has a wicked punch.

Bobby Lundie is rather fat, 138 pounds, but his wind is good, as he demonstrated in his nine-mile jaunt on the road with Nelson yesterday and is confident of making the weight good and strong. Nolan says the fact that Clifford and Lundie are training in the same quarters will have no effect on their putting up a good fight for the smaller purse and predicts a strenuous set-to by the little men from the tap of the gong.

Gans still rules a favorite in the betting and Larry Sullivan, the broker, promoter, millionaire manager of the Demon, announces that he has $50,000 to bet on his protege.

By the time George Siler orders the men to shake hands many hundreds of thousands of dollars will have been placed in cash, mining stocks and property on the result of the big mill. Nelson's following is no less confident than Gans' and betting will be lively from now on. Frank McDonald, who is in charge of Gans' training, has a record which, it is feared, the black man would consider a hoodoo. He has turned out several men who have lost to Nelson, but on the whole he has trained numerous winners at the game and the Baltimore man, although showing himself superstitious and refusing to begin training on Friday, has the utmost confidence in his trainer and is a most obedient charge.

OFFICIALS FAIL TO RECORD SWIM

Neglect of Officials at Midwinter Meet Deprives Champion of World's 100-Yard Record.

It developed Wednesday that the world's record made for the 100-yard swim by Charles M. Daniels of New York in his match race with Marquard Schwarz at the Missouri Athletic Club last March has nver been officially recorded on the books of the Amateur Athletic Union, failure of the officials in charge of the meet being responsible for the oversight.

The occasion on which Daniels made his mark was the first night of the dual aquatic meet between the swimming stars of the New York and Missouri Athletic clubs, and Daniels covered the distance in 56 seconds flat.

There were five timers at the finish and three of the watches caught the time at 56 seconds and one at 55 1-5 seconds. The fifth watch stopped.

Daniels, on his recent trip of Europe, following his victory in the Olympian games at Athens, visited England and competed in several special races. He was accompanied by Otto Wahle, official handicapper of the New York Athletic Club.

The best time Daniels could make in England for the hundred was 58 seconds and doubt was expressed of the authenticity of his performance in St. Louis.

When proofs were asked of the feat, Wahle promised to have James E. Sullivan, secretary of the A. A. U., send them on.

He returned to New York a few weeks ago and found that the mark had never been claimed and consequently had not been allowed.

Thursday he wrote to Mark Schwarz asking for the names of the timers at the meet and the officials, so that he can have the matter straightened out.

Schwarz says that five A. A. U. officials held the watches, but that he can only remember the names of two of them, Wallace McCargo and Connie O'Brien.

The matter seems in a pretty tangle through the neglect of somebody to claim a world's record made in St. Louis by probably the greatest short-distance swimmer the world has ever known.

L. P. O.—If the ball pitched does not cross the plate and the batter simply bunts at it and does not touch the ball, what would you call it? Understand, he does not swing at all, simply bunts. Is it a ball or strike? Strike.

S. K. C.—In case of ground rules when a runner is on first and a batter makes a two-base hit, can the baserunner score, or does he just get to third? The runner can only advance two bases. In this instance he would not be allowed to advance farther than third.

GIANTS AND GRIFFOES TO PLAY IN GOTHAM.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 23.—In case both the Highlanders and Giants lose the pennants in their respective leagues, New York is to have a post-season series of games after all.

The Giants are heartily in favor of the proposition and the Highlanders have already declared themselves. Having formed a set of rules for governing such contests, John T. Brush is willing to meet the American League Club under the condition therein set forth.

The players are already talking of the coming event in case they lose in the present race. It promises to be fully as hard fought contest as the one with the Athletics last fall. The rules are the same as those governing the world's championship series, which provides for seven games.

B.—Who won the pennant in the Southern League last year? New Orleans.

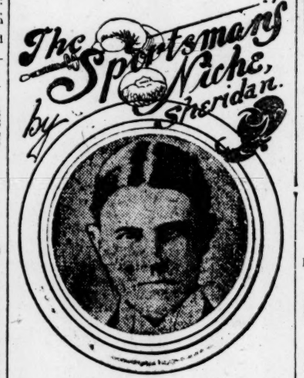
Greatest Race Trotting Mare That Has Ever Pulled Sulky

SWEET MARIE.

Sweet Marie is holding the center of interest in the trotting world just now. The great daughter of McKinnie is a representative of the West, having been bred in California, and her work this season on the Grand Circuit has made the followers of the turf sit up and take notice.

Sweet Marie has not met a horse fast enough to give her a good workout so far this season, and if she keeps on stepping in her present form it will be impossible to find anything in the trotting ranks that will. In her performance at Poughkeepsie she set a mark for trotting mares by stepping the second heat of the free-for-all in 2:04¼, beating the mark held jointly by herself and Lou Dillon by half a second. It was also the fastest mile trotted this year. None of the other starters were in Sweet Marie's class, so that she had to make her pace all the way. Sweet Marie is undoubtedly the greatest race trotting mare ever trained, with the possible exception of Sadie Mac, who fell dead in a race at Readville, Mass., last year. They never met, but experts considered Sadie Mac the best race mare on account of her more equable temper.



President Frank De Haas Robison of the Cardinals saw his team play ball on Wednesday for the first time this season. Would we were all so fortunate.

Georgantas, the Greek discus thrower, has come to Amrica to beat Martin Sheridan. An old proverb bids us beware of the Greeks bearing gifts. In this case the Greeks send Sheridan a soft thing, and he need entertain no fear about accepting it.

We observe that our little friend, Hartzell, got into the game at Philadelphia yesterday for the first time in a month and lost it. Francis Marion Parker, please get hep.

The Republic says that Manager McCloskey has been lost. We do not doubt it. Had we such a team we would see to it that we got lost, too.

While we are having a golf championship, a baseball championship, a tennis championship and a lightweight boxing championship all in a bunch, let us not forget that the little boys down at Norwich, Conn., are having a roque championship. For the benefit of the uninitiated it may be said that roque is the fin de siecle name for the good old game of croquet.

The weather is hot and it is a long time since we were last scooped. In fact, not since Glade was traded to Griffith for Yeager and Delehanty. Time before that was when Weigand was to play third base for McAleer. The hot weather seems to be affecting the energy of our indefatigable contemporaries.

They like our little soubrette friend, Dishabille, so well down Saratoga way that they will bet even their clothes on her when she starts in a race.

There may not be any nigger in the woodpile behind the boxing backyard, but if the go is on the level we rather expect to see the cullud genman split some white pine.

While apotheosising the sturdy Germans of the Chicago Cubs, do not forget to say a good word for the fighting Irish, Tannehill, Dougherty, Donohue, O'Neill, Owen and Walsh of the White Sox, who have made the greatest race ever known in the history of baseball. The Germans are a great people, but there are just a few Irish left, just a few.

John T. Brush of the New York National League baseball team is a believer in invoking the aid of the law when things go against you in sport. He had better get out an injunction forbidding other teams to beat him if he hopes to win that pennant.

From the tales they bear from Newport this young tennis player, Behr, must be a bear on the courts.

E. B.—Is George Hackenschmidt considered the champion Graeco-Roman and catch-as-catch-can wrestler of the world or just champion of one style? Hackenschmidt is champion of the world at both styles.

BASEBALL BABBLE

Boston at League Park again Thursday afternoon.

Brown or Rhoades will attempt to beat Dorner or Lindamann Thursday.

Karger won his own games with a smashing double down the third base line.

Hoelskoetter excelled with the ash. Holly made a single and a double in three tries.

Dolan and Pfeffer each made two hits in four attempts.

Dolan on second base is the only left-handed infielder in the country. It looks rather funny to see a left-handed infielder throw to first base.

Three doubles were made at League Park Wednesday. Holly and Karger made two for the Cardinals while Dolan manufactured the other for Boston.

Karger's catch of Grady's throw of Howard's grounder in the third inning was the feature of the game. Howard bounded a fast one to Mike, who caught the ball and wheeled and threw to first. Karger caught the ball and tagged the bag just a step before Howard.

Bennett was responsible for Mertes striking out in the sixth inning. Sandow had two strikes. Bennett made a break as though he was going to steal. The ball was high and in and Mertes struck at it. Bennett did not go down.

Mathewson was touched for six hits and two runs Thursday. Clarke was the batting leader of the Pirates. He got two hits in four tries.

McGann led the Giants with the bat. Daniel made three hits in four tries. Shannon continues to get his daily hit.

With the exception of Mathewson and Bowerman every giant made a hit.

The White Sox have equaled the Giants' record of winning 18 straight games by defeating the Highlanders twice Wednesday. The less said the better—19 hits, including a double and a triple, and 17 runs tells the tale. In the first game Chesbro was found for six hits in the same number of innings. Griffith was desperate and went into the box in the second inning. He was found for seven hits.

Boston took advantage of Detroit's errors and won, 3 to 2. Cy Young was found for eight safe hits, but the Tigers could collect but two runs.

Smith of the Nationals pitched masterly ball and the Blues made but four hits off him. Washington made five hits and four runs.

New York is leading the Pirates by but two points. Should Clarke's band beat the Giants Thursday the Pirates will jump into second place.

Jack Taylor just did manage to beat the Phillies, 4 to 3. Taylor was found for seven hits, including a double and a triple.

Kling made three hits in the same number of tries. Sheckard made three hits in four tries. Tinker made two in four efforts.

The Cubs are leading the Giants by 8½ points.

Superior batting by the Dodgers beat the Reds, 7 to 4. Sinon made a single and a double in four tries.

Maloney was the particular sticking star for Donovan. He made three hits in four tries.

That the Ravens are not good mudders was demonstrated at Philadelphia Wednesday. Waddell saved the day for Mack's men by making Stone roll to Knight.

Stone made three hits in five tries.

Tom Jones made two hits in five tries and followed Stone among the Ravens in this respect.

Cross and Hartsell of the Athletics each made two hits. Stone, Knight, Coombs and Jones each made two base hits.

Niles, O'Brien and Hartzell were the only Ravens who failed to get safe hits.

The Ravens play in Boston and should thrash those Bostonians. Powell is down to pitch and may be opposed by Dineen.

Secretary Sard Smith of the Triple A has arranged to have the returns of the Gans-Nelson contest bulletined by rounds at League Park Labor day at the championship meet of the Western Amateur Athletic Union. The men are expected to step into the ring at Goldfields, Nev., about 3 p. m. Labor day, so the crowd at League Park will know the result of the lightweight battle before the games are over.

MISS SUTTON BEATS GOOD MENAT TENNIS

Crack Feminine Player Disposes of H. M. Harriman in Exhibition Match.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 23.—The summer residents turned out in large numbers on the grounds of "Land's End," the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. Livingstone Beeckman, where an informal reception was given to Miss May Sutton, former woman lawn tennis champion of America, who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. Shaw Safe. During the afternoon the final match in mixed doubles, which was started at the Casino Monday afternoon, was played, Miss Sutton and Mr. Willing Spencer playing against Miss Eleanor Sears and Mr. Cyril Hatch. The superiority of Miss Sutton gave her and her partner an easy victory, the score being 6—3, 6—2. The result was never in doubt. After this match Miss Sutton gave a remarkable exhibition of her skill as a tennis player by defeating Mr. Herbert M. Harriman in a two-set match, allowing her opponent only three games in the two sets, the score being 6—2; 6—1. Miss Sutton won without exerting herself.

Mr. Fred S. Mansfield, the veteran tennis player, and for many years referee of championship contests in the national tournament, was the referee for both matches.

CARDINALS CRACK YOUNG OF BOSTON

Sharp Hitting by McCloskey's Team and Good Work of Karger Wins Game.

Keen hitting by the Cardinals in the seventh inning won the first game of the Boston series Wednesday, 3 to 2.

Keen, careful and effective box work by Karger and Young had characterized the game until this period, and the game was tied up with the score 2 to 2.

With two out in the seventh, Hostetter doubled to right. Karger, then fairly lay on one of Young's dew drops for a double to left and Hostetter counted what proved to be the winning run.

Little credit is due to the Cardinals for their victory. Opposed to them was one of the poorest make-shift baseball teams that has disgraced League Park since Von der Ahe's Browns cavorted under Tim Hurst.

Dolan, an outfielder, was at second; Pitcher Pfeffer in right, a first baseman at third and a youngster devoid of major league experience in center. Small wonder that the Cardinals won from this aggregation.

Hostetter, Marshall and Burch are charged with errors in the official summary, but it is questionable if they were more entitled to them than several of the other Cardinal players who were given the benefit of the doubt by a kind-hearted scorer.

Pfeffer and Burch tried hard to lend some eclat to the game by making captures of fly balls that were really sensational and deserving of a high degree of credit.

Jack Clifford and Eddie Hanlon have been mentioned as the principals for one of the bouts which are likely to take place at Goldfields preliminary to the contest for the lightweight championship. Clifford's record is sufficiently good to lead to the belief that he will at least make a good showing against any of the lightweights who may come forward.

SARD SEEKS STARS FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Secretary Smith Hustles Through the Middle West for Good Men.

If Secretary Sard Smith of the Triple Club succeeds in getting certain athletes to whom he has extended invitations to compete in the Western A. A. U. championships it is likely that the event will look more like some intercollegiate meeting than a competition between representatives of athletic club organizations.

It developed Wednesday that some of the men he was after include John Cartmell of the University of Pennsylvania; N. H. Hargrave, the great Yale runner; Ed Stannard, the Princeton weight thrower, and an "unknown" from Circle College of Farmington, Mo., who is accredited with a mark of :09 4-5 for the hundred.

Cartmell is the intercollegiate champion of 1906, having won his title at the thirty-first annual games, held at Cambridge, Mass., last May.

Cartmell won the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes. He was the only double winner of the day and the manner in which he carried off the two sprints stamps him as one of the best short distance men in the country.

Cartmell is a resident of Louisville, Ky., and, of course, eligible to compete in the championships.

Smith has had President John J. O'Connor of the Western A. A. U. after Cartmell for some days, and expects to go to Louisville himself next week to induce the Pennsylvania man to compete in the Western games.

A trial between Cartmell and Moulton, the former intercollegiate champion, should result in an exciting race.

Another college man whom Smith is trying to get is N. H. Hargrave. The former Yale runner was Arthur Duffy's most dangerous competitor three years ago.

Hargrave is a member of the Cincinnati Gymnasium and Athletic Association and has been extended an invitation to compete.

Ed Stannard, the St. Louis boy who is a member of the Princeton football eleven and the best weights man at the Tiger university, will probably stay over and compete in the games. Next to Shevlin of Yale, Stannard is the best weight man in Eastern collegiate circles.

HARTZELL'S MUFFS BEAT THE RAVENS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—Sequential hitting by the Athletics in the initial inning of Wednesday's game and costly misplays by Hartzell lost the Ravens the final game of the Philadelphia series, 5 to 3.

A double-header was to have been played, but rain stopped the first game after half an inning.

Wallace slightly turned his ankle in this period and McAleer would not allow him to get back into the game when the second contest was called. Hartzell replaced him at short.

Philadelphia pelted Pelty's slants to all part of the field in the first inning and counted four times.

Hartzel opened the session by singling to center. Lord was easy for Pelty, and Davis struck out. On the third strike Hartzel stole and took third when Hartzell and O'Brien got their signals mixed and allowed the ball to scamper out into center field. Seybold's single scored Hartzel. Schreck singled and Nilea fumbled Oldring's grounder, filling the bases. Cross singled, scoring Seybold, and Knight doubled to right, scoring Schreck and Oldring. Combs fouled to Pelty, giving the Ravens a chance to hurry in to the bench to resuscitate McAleer, who had nearly fainted.

In the sixth the Athletics got a run on Hartzell's fumble of Oldring's tap. Cross' sacrifice and Coombs' double.

St. Louis scored in the first on Stone's double and Hemphill's single.

In the ninth Koehler walked and advanced on a wild pitch. Cross fumbled Spencer's grounder. Wallace batted for Pelty and singled Koehler. Niles struck out. Jones doubled, scoring Spencer. Waddell took Coombs' place in the box and retired Stone for the third out.

The Ravens departed for Boston last night, where they open up a series of four games Thursday.

BOXING IS BAD IN GRAND RAPIDS.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 23.—The game at Grand Rapids, whither various Western fighters have been speeding, begins to look groggy. Harry Lewis refused to box at the Lake Club, claiming that a man brought on to meet him, purporting to be Arthur Cote, the Biddeford boxer, was a ringer. Cote, Lewis claimed, was much smaller. Fearing some sort of a queer deal, the club called off the mill and kept its ring idle.

It is reported that Lewis and his manager, John R. Robinson of New York, have separated. Robinson recently challenged Mike Ward on behalf of Lewis. Ward came to the front in a hurry, posting $250 to bind a side bet of $1000. There was no trouble about coming to an agreement about weight, but thus far no Lewis money has been dug up, and it is said that the boxer is sore over the position he has been put in the eyes of fight fans as well as over the fact that several matches partially made have fallen through.

Dave Holly, the colored boxer whom Joe Gans defeated recently at Seattle, has been having marital troubles. He was brought into court and threatened with imprisonment if he did not contribute to his better half's support. Dave promised the judge that he would pay up all his debts to his wife and escaped.
